

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS
COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles County Ethics Commission

Background

In 2024, Los Angeles County voters passed Measure G, which requires the creation of an independent Ethics Commission and Office of Ethics Compliance to promote ethical, transparent, and accountable County government.

The Los Angeles County Ethics Commission is expected to serve as an independent ethics oversight body for the County. The Commission's role includes overseeing and enforcing laws related to campaign financing, lobbying, conflicts of interest, governmental ethics, and related matters; providing strategic oversight of the Office of Ethics Compliance; adopting rules, regulations, policies, complaint procedures, and penalty guidelines; issuing formal opinions; and adjudicating enforcement matters, including making final decisions following administrative hearings and imposing penalties where authorized.

The Office of Ethics Compliance will carry out the Commission's day-to-day work, which includes education and training, advice and guidance, public transparency and disclosure administration, investigations, audits, referrals to other enforcement agencies, and public reporting.

Ethics Commissioners may be asked to review sensitive or complex matters and must exercise independent judgment, fairness, impartiality, and discretion. Commissioners shall not act as representatives of any nominating authority, elected official, organization, or interest group.

The Commission will meet at least six times per calendar year, and meetings will be subject to the Ralph M. Brown Act. Commissioners will need to prepare for meetings, review materials, participate in hearings or other Commission activities, complete required trainings or disclosures, and comply with applicable ethics and service restrictions.

The time commitment is subject to change and may vary based on the Commission's meeting schedule, agenda items, enforcement matters, hearings, subcommittee meetings, preparation time, and other Commission business. Commissioners should expect to spend approximately 5 to 20 hours per month on Commission-related work. During start-up, the time required initially may be greater. Commissioners are expected to receive $250 per meeting and reimbursement for reasonable expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties, in accordance with applicable County Code and policies.

Structure of the Ethics Commission

The Los Angeles County Ethics Commission will have seven members. Applications submitted through this process may be reviewed for consideration by the applicable nominating authority and/or the initial Ethics Commission, subject to the final ordinance and formal appointment by the Board of Supervisors.

The appointment structure includes the following nominating authorities:

- Governance Reform Task Force (GRTF) initial nomination / County Executive seat beginning in 2029- One member will initially be nominated through the GRTF process following a public recruitment and application process. Beginning January 1, 2029, this member will instead be nominated by the elected County Executive. This nominee must have a background in public information and public meetings, community outreach and engagement, or using technology as it relates to open government. The initial term for this seat will expire on June 30, 2029.
- Chair of the Board of Supervisors nomination- One member will be nominated by the Chair of the Board of Supervisors. This nominee must have a background in public policy or public law. The initial term for this seat will expire on June 30, 2030.
- Assessor nomination- One member will be nominated by the Assessor. This nominee must have a background in campaign finance, accounting, auditing, and compliance with ethics laws in the public or private sector, or protection of whistleblowers. The initial term for this seat will expire on June 30, 2027.
- Commission-nominated public applicant pool- Once the first three nominees are appointed, the Commission will nominate the remaining four members at a public meeting following a public recruitment and application process, which should include outreach to communities that are underrepresented in the County's political process. These nominees should be broadly representative of the general public, and at least one Commission-nominated member must reside in an unincorporated area of Los Angeles County. The initial terms for two Commission-nominated seats will expire on June 30, 2028, and the initial terms for the remaining two Commission-nominated seats will expire on June 30, 2031.

After the initial staggered terms, Commissioners will serve five-year terms beginning July 1 and ending June 30. A member who has served a complete five-year term is not eligible for reappointment. If a replacement has not been appointed by the end of a member's term, the member may continue serving in a holdover capacity until a new member is appointed, for a period not to exceed one year.

Nominating authorities shall value lived experience, community leadership, traditional and non-traditional expertise, and working-class accessibility. Nominating authorities and the Board shall consider relevant analytical skills, ability to be impartial, and appreciation for the County's diverse demographics, to the extent feasible and permissible by law.

Commissioners may also be subject to attendance requirements, including possible vacancy provisions for missed meetings, ceasing to be a county resident, removal, or other circumstances specified by ordinance.

I am also responsible for organizational ethics, conflict-of-interest requirements, personnel policies, confidentiality, reporting procedures, and corrective action when compliance concerns arise.

(Desirable qualifications)

As Executive Director of Central City Neighborhood Partners, a nonprofit that has served Los Angeles communities for 25 years and currently reaches more than 50,000 people annually, I oversee government contracts, public and private funding, audits, internal controls, conflict-of-interest requirements, personnel policies, and Board accountability.

Previously, as a education superintendent, I was responsible for educational leadership, budgets, personnel matters, regulatory compliance, public accountability, and decisions affecting students, families, and employees at the Morongo Band of Mission Indians reservation. This work required me to analyze complex information, protect confidentiality, apply policies fairly, and remain accountable to the communities I served.

My experience is strongest in nonprofit governance, ethics compliance, financial accountability, public engagement, and government oversight. Although I am not a campaign finance or lobbying attorney, I understand the importance of disclosure, impartial enforcement, due process, and maintaining clear boundaries between public service and private interests.

As an American Indian community leader, I bring lived experience working alongside Indigenous, immigrant, working-class, and historically underrepresented communities. I would bring independent judgment, practical leadership, and the willingness to ask difficult questions while evaluating every matter fairly and without political influence.

As a Commissioner, you may be required to evaluate evidence, determine whether a person violated an ethics or campaign finance law, and, if so, decide whether a monetary penalty should be imposed. Please describe your ability to exercise independent judgment and act impartially and fairly when evaluating information and making decisions. If applicable, provide examples from your professional, volunteer, community, or personal experiences. (Desirable qualifications)

Throughout my career as an Executive Director and former superintendent, I have made difficult decisions involving personnel, contracts, budgets, compliance concerns, and the responsible use of public and private funds. These decisions often affect employees, families, organizations, and community partners, requiring fairness, confidentiality, and sound judgment.

I begin by reviewing the available evidence, identifying the applicable policy or requirement, and separating verified facts from assumptions or personal relationships. I listen to all relevant perspectives, consult legal or technical experts when necessary, document the reasoning behind my decision, and apply standards consistently. If I have a conflict of interest or cannot be impartial, I believe disclosure and recusal are essential.

I understand that an allegation is not proof of a violation and that every person deserves a fair process. At the same time, once the evidence establishes a violation, accountability must be meaningful, consistent, and proportionate to the seriousness of the conduct. I am comfortable making difficult decisions independently, even when they may be unpopular, and explaining how the evidence and applicable rules support the outcome.

Los Angeles County is one of the most diverse counties in the nation. Please describe your appreciation for the County’s diverse demographics and how that appreciation would inform your service as a Commissioner. You may include examples from your professional, volunteer, educational, community, or life experiences, including any experience serving, engaging with, or working alongside diverse communities in Los Angeles County. (Desirable qualifications)

Los Angeles County’s diversity is one of its greatest strengths, but diversity must also be reflected in who has access to information, who participates in government, and who trusts public institutions.

As Executive Director of Central City Neighborhood Partners, I work alongside immigrant, Indigenous, working-class, multilingual, and historically underrepresented communities throughout Westlake, Pico-Union, Koreatown, and surrounding areas. Our nonprofit serves more than 50,000 people annually through education, food access, workforce development, financial empowerment, housing support, health services, and community engagement. Previously, as a superintendent serving an American Indian tribal community, I learned the importance of respecting sovereignty, culture, lived experience, and community voice.

As an American Indian leader, I understand that communities may experience government differently based on language, culture, income, immigration history, geography, and prior treatment by public institutions. As a Commissioner, I would consider whether ethics rules, complaint procedures, public information, and hearings are understandable and accessible to all residents. I would apply the law consistently while ensuring that every person is treated with dignity, fairness, and respect.

List any County, city, state, nonprofit, community, civic, advisory, professional, or other boards, commissions, committees, or organizations on which you currently serve or previously served. Include offices held, if any. If none, write "N/A."

PERSONAL STATEMENT

Eduardo Rodriguez | Los Angeles County Ethics Commission

I am seeking appointment to the Los Angeles County Ethics Commission because public trust depends on government being ethical, transparent, accessible, and accountable to every community it serves. I would bring independent judgment, practical governance experience, and a commitment to fair and impartial decision-making.

As Executive Director of Central City Neighborhood Partners (CCNP), I lead a nonprofit organization that has served Los Angeles communities for 25 years and currently reaches more than 50,000 people annually. I oversee government contracts, public and private funding, organizational budgets, audits, internal controls, conflict-of-interest requirements, personnel policies, and Board accountability. I work regularly with public agencies, elected offices, legal counsel, auditors, community partners, and residents. This work requires transparency, responsible stewardship, discretion, and clear boundaries between organizational interests and public responsibilities.

Previously, as a superintendent, I was responsible for educational leadership, budgets, personnel matters, regulatory compliance, and decisions affecting students, families, and employees. I learned to evaluate complex and sometimes conflicting information, protect confidentiality, distinguish verified facts from assumptions, apply policies consistently, and explain difficult decisions. When specialized expertise is needed, I seek appropriate legal or technical guidance while retaining responsibility for the final decision.

My professional experience is strongest in nonprofit governance, ethics compliance, financial accountability, public engagement, and government oversight. I understand that an allegation is not proof, that every person deserves a fair process, and that established violations require meaningful and proportionate accountability. I also believe disclosure and recusal are essential whenever a conflict could compromise, or reasonably appear to compromise, impartiality.

As an American Indian community leader, I bring lived experience working alongside Indigenous, immigrant, multilingual, working-class, and historically underrepresented communities. Through CCNP's work in Westlake, Pico-Union, Koreatown, and surrounding areas, I see how language, culture, income, immigration history, and prior experiences with government can affect access and trust. Ethics oversight must be legally sound, understandable, and accessible to the public.

If selected, I will approach each matter without political influence or loyalty to any nominating authority, organization, or interest group. I will review the evidence carefully, listen to relevant perspectives, apply the governing standards consistently, and support decisions that strengthen both accountability and public confidence in Los Angeles County government.
