Introduction

In 2018, the Office of Child Protection (OCP) released its Permanency Report for Los Angeles County Foster Youth. Multiple research studies have demonstrated the importance of achieving permanency (being adopted by a family, returning home to live with a biological parent or parents, living with relatives, and/or living with a legal guardian), and the need to address challenges surrounding permanency to improve outcomes for youth who are or have been involved in the foster and/or probation systems. Youth who exit foster care without a permanent family or adult connection have a higher risk for increased rates of homelessness, poverty, teen pregnancy, a lack of education, and involvement with the criminal-justice system. Having a stable, permanent family and supportive community is linked with youth being able to successfully attain permanent housing, higher education, self-efficacy, and social/emotional well-being.

Caregivers and youth were interviewed for the 2018 report, and one topic repeatedly mentioned was a concern around public benefits—both the potential loss of benefits following adoption, and the lack of information on available benefits. For example, some caregivers/youth believed that once youth turned 18, they could not be adopted, and once adopted (at any age), they lost access to benefits. Not necessarily. Older foster youth have permanency options—including non-minor dependent adoptions—that leave them still eligible for Adoption Assistance Payments and Independent Living Program benefits.

These charts were compiled to provide a comprehensive resource¹ of foster-youth benefits to assist youth and caregivers, particularly when making permanency decisions. This document also includes a section on benefits and entitlements that can potentially still be accessed (depending on case circumstances) once a youth exits the child-welfare system.

Please note that while some benefits may not be available once a youth leaves foster care, youth who achieve permanency have better outcomes and more supports available as they work toward self-sufficiency.

For the purposes of this document, the term “foster youth” is defined as youth ages 14 through 20 years old, with open/active cases with the Department of Children and Family Services (DCFS), including Family Maintenance, Voluntary Family Maintenance, Family Reunification, Permanent Placement, AB 12/Supportive Transition, Kin-GAP; or youth ages 16 through 24 years old with a closed case, who are/were Independent Living Program–eligible.

Benefit Name	Adoption Assistance Program (AAP)
Benefit Department	Department of Children and Family Services (DCFS)
Benefit Description	The Adoption Assistance Program (AAP) provides financial and medical coverage to facilitate the adoption of children who otherwise would remain in long-term foster care. The adoptive family is eligible for post-adoption services that may include resource and referral connections, brief case management, and crisis intervention. Youth adopted after their 16th birthday are also eligible for Independent Living Program (ILP) services (page 6), except for housing assistance. AAP funding is paid only to an adoptive parent.
Benefit Eligibility	Please review the DCFS AAP policy for more information on eligibility: http://m.policy.dcfs.lacounty.gov/Src/Content/Initiating_Adoption_Ass.htm. Once youth are determined eligible to receive AAP benefits, they remain eligible and the subsidy continues through the day before the child/youth's 18th birthday. AAP benefits can be continued through the day before the youth's 21st birthday if he or she meets at least one of the following: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The initial adoption assistance agreement was signed when the youth was at least 16 years old AND <ol style="list-style-type: none"> a. Youth is working toward completing high school or equivalent program OR b. Youth is enrolled in a college, community college, or a vocational education program OR c. Youth is employed at least 80 hours per month OR d. Youth is participating in a program designed to assist in gaining employment OR e. Youth is unable to do one of the above due to a medical condition 2. Youth has a physical or mental disability that warrants the continuation of assistance (through the day before the youth's 21st birthday)
Access to Benefit/Action Steps to Receiving Benefit	AAP benefits are negotiated by the children's social worker (CSW) with the adoptive parent(s) before the parent(s) sign an adoptive placement agreement with DCFS and before finalizing the adoption. The CSW makes the final determination of the amount of the AAP benefit, which is based upon the youth's needs and the circumstances of the adoptive parent(s). The AAP agreement must be signed before the adoption is finalized. The extension of AAP benefits beyond age 18 depends on the adoptive parents requesting the benefit extension before the child/youth's 18th birthday by BOTH: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Calling the Foster Care/Adoption Assistance Hotline at (800) 697-4444 AND ▪ Providing documentation to DCFS of the child/youth's eligibility (see Benefit Eligibility) AAP must be recertified at least every two years. For any questions, reach out to your CSW and minor's attorney. You can also contact the Alliance for Children's Rights at (213) 368-6010 with questions.
Length of Benefit	AAP benefits start on the date the AAP agreement is signed and continue until the day before the youth's 18th birthday. If the criteria are met for the two situations described above (reference 1 and 2 in "Benefit Eligibility"), the youth can continue to receive benefits through the day before the youth's 21st birthday.

Priority enrollment/registration for some higher-education opportunities is available to youth per SB 906, which established that current and former foster youth (in care after their 16th birthday and now under the age of 26) are entitled to priority enrollment/registration at community colleges and California State Universities; the bill requested that the University of California grant priority enrollment/registration as well.

Priority housing is available to youth per AB 1228. This requires that CSUs and UCs allow foster youth and homeless youth priority housing and to remain in housing that is available during academic breaks at no extra charge.

Benefit Name	CalFresh
Benefit Department	Federal program administered through the State of California and the Los Angeles County Department of Public Social Services (DPSS)
Benefit Description	CalFresh is the California name for the federal Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), an entitlement established to improve the nutrition of people in low-income households. CalFresh benefits are used instead of money at most grocery stores and farmers' markets.
Benefit Eligibility	Eligibility for CalFresh benefits is based on the income of a household. Household For CalFresh purposes, a household is a group of people who live together AND buy and prepare food together. Youth under age 18 who are living with a foster family or with their biological family cannot apply for CalFresh separately from the family. In households in which meals are purchased and prepared together (i.e., Resource Family homes), non-minor dependents (NMDs) may not apply for CalFresh separately from their household. Instead, the head of household may apply for CalFresh on behalf of the entire household. In households in which meals are purchased and prepared separately (i.e., THP-NMD, renting a room in a SILP), non-minor dependents (NMDs) may apply for CalFresh as a separate household. Income CalFresh eligibility is based on the total income a household has. If a non-minor dependent is receiving Supervised Independent Living Placement (SILP) benefits, the SILP benefits count as income. Youth in many different placement types can apply for CalFresh, including youth living in transitional housing. However, youth living in Short-Term Residential Treatment Programs (STRTPs) or Qualified Residential Treatment Programs (QRTPs) are not eligible for CalFresh. Students Persons may also be eligible if they meet the following CalFresh Student Eligibility requirements: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Age: from your 18th birthday through the day before your 49th birthday ▪ Be enrolled at least half-time in an institution of higher education CalFresh Student Exemption Criteria <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Employed for a minimum of 20 hours per week ▪ Approved for work/study for the current term and anticipate working during the school term ▪ A parent with a dependent child under age 6 ▪ A parent with a dependent child ages 6 to 12 AND a lack of adequate child care preventing from attending class and working 20 hours per week or participating in work/study ▪ Enrolled full-time in a higher-education institution AND a single parent with a dependent child under age 12 ▪ Participating in Extended Foster Care ▪ Receiving a Cal Grant A or B at a community college, California State University, or University of California; unmarried, 25 years or younger; and income of less than $50,000 per year ▪ Receiving a Chafee Education and Training Voucher ▪ Participating in a foster-youth campus support program (i.e., Guardian Scholars, FYSI, CAFYES/NextUp) ▪ Participating in a campus support program (i.e., EOPS, EOP, CARE, McNair, Puente Project, MESA)

Social Security

Benefit Name	Social Security Income (SSI) for Foster Youth With a Disability
Benefit Department	Federal program
Benefit Description	Supplemental Security Income (SSI) is a needs-based disability program that provides monthly benefits that may be available when a foster youth meets criteria outlined by the Social Security Agency (SSA).
Benefit Eligibility	To qualify, the youth must have been in foster-care placement either out-of-home OR in a home or facility that is licensed or otherwise approved by the state to provide care; the placing agency retains responsibility for continuing supervision of the need for such placement and the care provided. To qualify, the child must have a disability that meets the specific medical criteria established by the SSA. In addition, strict income and resource requirements must be met to prove there is a financial need. The foster parents' income will be taken into consideration because it is considered that the child will have access to a portion of that income.
Access to Benefit/Action Steps to Receiving Benefit	Youth may apply for SSI up to 180 days before their foster-care eligibility ends due to age. Disabled youth transitioning out of foster care may file an SSI application if they: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Live in a foster-care situation ▪ Allege blindness or disability ▪ Appear likely to meet all the non-medical-eligibility requirements when foster-care payments terminate ▪ Expect the foster-care payments to cease within 180 days of the application filing date ▪ Are within 180 days of losing foster-care eligibility because of age HELPFUL LINKS SSI Info https://www.cdss.ca.gov/cdssweb/entres/forms/english/pub422.pdf Applying Online http://www.ssa.gov/applyfordisability Applying by Phone or for Any Questions (800) 772-1213 Applying in Person Locate the Social Security Administration office nearest you.
Length of Benefit	SSI will do an "Age 18 Redetermination" around the time the youth is aging out of care and will determine again if the youth can continue receiving aid.
Benefit Amount	Amount of the cash aid depends on income and living situation

Priority enrollment/registration for some higher-education opportunities is available to youth per SB 906, which established that current and former foster youth (in care after their 16th birthday and now under the age of 26) are entitled to priority enrollment/registration at community colleges and California State Universities; the bill requested that the University of California grant priority enrollment/registration as well.

Priority housing is available to youth per AB 1228. This requires that CSUs and UCs allow foster youth and homeless youth priority housing and to remain in housing that is available during academic breaks at no extra charge.

| Benefit Description | Assembly Bill (AB) 12 is the law that extends foster care to age 21 in California. That means you can take advantage of all the services and benefits DCFS and Probation have to offer, including support, funding, transportation (Youth on the Move, page 7), and housing (placement).                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Assembly Bill (AB) 12 is the law that extends foster care to age 21 in California. Priority enrollment/registration for some higher-education opportunities is available to youth per SB 906, which established that current and former foster youth (in care after their 16th birthday and now under the age of 26) are entitled to priority enrollment/registration at community colleges and California State Universities; the bill requested that the University of California grant priority enrollment/registration as well.

Priority housing is available to youth per AB 1228. This requires that CSUs and UCs allow foster youth and homeless youth priority housing and to remain in housing that is available during academic breaks at no extra charge.

Length of Benefit	From their 18th birthday through the day before their 21st birthday	From their 18th birthday through the day before their 21st birthday
Benefit Amount	Benefits amount depends on the placement type, needs of the youth, etc.

Priority enrollment/registration for some higher-education opportunities is available to youth per SB 906, which established that current and former foster youth (in care after their 16th birthday and now under the age of 26) are entitled to priority enrollment/registration at community colleges and California State Universities; the bill requested that the University of California grant priority enrollment/registration as well.

Priority housing is available to youth per AB 1228. This requires that CSUs and UCs allow foster youth and homeless youth priority housing and to remain in housing that is available during academic breaks at no extra charge.

Benefit Name	Transportation to School of Origin	Cal Grant A
Benefit Department	Department of Children and Family Services (DCFS)	California Student Aid Commission
Benefit Description	Federal and state laws require DCFS and school districts to provide and fund transportation for youth to remain in their school of origin. The school of origin is the school that the foster child attended when permanently housed, or the school in which the foster child was last enrolled. If the school the foster child attended when permanently housed is different from the school in which the foster child was last enrolled, or if the foster child attended some other school where they felt connected and that they attended within the last 15 months, that school may be identified as the school of origin. When a youth is placed into foster care or moves foster-care placements, the school district's Foster Youth Liaison, the youth's Educational Rights Holder, and the youth must meet to determine whether it is in the youth's best interest to remain in their school of origin. The Educational Rights Holder is the decision-maker during this meeting.	For low- to middle-income students with a minimum high school GPA of 3.00. May be used for an academic program that is two to four years in length. Can be used only for tuition and fees. If awarded at a California community college, the funds will be held in reserve up to two years until the student transfers to a four-year school.
Benefit Eligibility	Must meet the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Any school-age youth placed in foster care or who has changed foster-care placements The youth's Educational Rights Holder determines whether or not staying in the school of origin is in the youth's best interest In kindergarten through 12th grade 	Must meet the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Submit the FAFSA (pages 35 and 37) or CADAA (page 37) application and your verified Cal Grant GPA by the deadline Be a U.S. citizen or eligible noncitizen, or meet CADAA eligibility criteria Be a California resident for one year Attend a qualifying California college Not have a bachelor's or professional degree Have financial need at the college of your choice Have family income and assets below the minimum levels Be enrolled or plan to enroll in a program leading to an undergraduate degree or certificate

Priority enrollment/registration for some higher-education opportunities is available to youth per SB 906, which established that current and former foster youth (in care after their 16th birthday and now under the age of 26) are entitled to priority enrollment/registration at community colleges and California State Universities; the bill requested that the University of California grant priority enrollment/registration as well.

Priority housing is available to youth per AB 1228. This requires that CSUs and UCs allow foster youth and homeless youth priority housing and to remain in housing that is available during academic breaks at no extra charge.

Priority enrollment/registration for some higher-education opportunities is available to youth per SB 906, which established that current and former foster youth (in care after their 16th birthday and now under the age of 26) are entitled to priority enrollment/registration at community colleges and California State Universities; the bill requested that the University of California grant priority enrollment/registration as well.

Priority housing is available to youth per AB 1228. This requires that CSUs and UCs allow foster youth and homeless youth priority housing and to remain in housing that is available during academic breaks at no extra charge.

Priority enrollment/registration for some higher-education opportunities is available to youth per SB 906, which established that current and former foster youth (in care after their 16th birthday and now under the age of 26) are entitled to priority enrollment/registration at community colleges and California State Universities; the bill requested that the University of California grant priority enrollment/registration as well.

Priority housing is available to youth per AB 1228. This requires that CSUs and UCs allow foster youth and homeless youth priority housing and to remain in housing that is available during academic breaks at no extra charge.

| Benefit Description | If the current or former foster youth can answer “yes” to any part of either of these two questions, they may qualify for “Independent Student” status for purposes of the FAFSA application. The below questions only pertain to students until their 24th birthdays, after which all students are considered independent. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>At any time since the age 13, were both your parents deceased, were you in foster care, or were you a dependent or ward of the court?</li> <li>Does someone other than your parent or step-parent have legal guardianship of you, as determined by a court in your state of residence?</li> </ul> Students who achieve independent status are not required to report the income of their biological parents, foster parents, grandparents/relatives, or legal guardians. As a result, students may qualify for more financial aid. | The California DREAM Act application allows undocumented and nonresident students (U.S. citizens and eligible non-citizens) who qualify for a nonresident exemption under Assembly Bill 540 (AB 540) to receive certain types of financial aid, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Private scholarships funded through public universities</li> <li>State administered financial aid</li> <li>University grants</li> <li>Community College fee waivers</li> <li>Cal Grants</li> </ul> This application is unrelated to the federal Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) program.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Benefit Eligibility | Must submit the FAFSA and meet any of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Foster youth with an open dependency case in a legal guardianship, foster home, or group home</li> <li>Foster youth with a case closed after the age of 13, including youth adopted at age 13 or older</li> <li>You were in foster care or were a dependent or ward of the court for a minimum of one day after you turned 13</li> </ul> After submitting their FAFSA, youth may be asked for a letter confirming their foster-care involvement after age 13. If the youth’s case is closed, they should contact the Foster Care Ombudsman’s Office at (877) 846-1602 or via e-mail at fosteryouthhelp@dss.ca.gov for the letter. Please contact your social worker or ILP Coordinator to verify your foster-youth status.                         | Must meet any of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Youth is not eligible to file the FAFSA (page 35) AND attended at least three full years in a California high school, adult school, or community college OR</li> <li>Has three years of California high school credits and three years of total attendance in any combination of elementary, secondary, or high school in California AND graduated from a California high school with the equivalent attainment of a General Education Development (GED), High School Equivalency Test (HiSET), Test Assessing Secondary Completion (TASC), or California High School Proficiency Examination (CHSPE) OR attained an associate degree from a California community college OR fulfilled the minimum transfer requirements from a California community college to a California State University (CSU) or University of California (UC) campus AND, if without</li> </ul> |

Priority enrollment/registration for some higher-education opportunities is available to youth per SB 906, which established that current and former foster youth (in care after their 16th birthday and now under the age of 26) are entitled to priority enrollment/registration at community colleges and California State Universities; the bill requested that the University of California grant priority enrollment/registration as well.

Priority housing is available to youth per AB 1228. This requires that CSUs and UCs allow foster youth and homeless youth priority housing and to remain in housing that is available during academic breaks at no extra charge.

Priority enrollment/registration for some higher-education opportunities is available to youth per SB 906, which established that current and former foster youth (in care after their 16th birthday and now under the age of 26) are entitled to priority enrollment/registration at community colleges and California State Universities; the bill requested that the University of California grant priority enrollment/registration as well.

Priority housing is available to youth per AB 1228. This requires that CSUs and UCs allow foster youth and homeless youth priority housing and to remain in housing that is available during academic breaks at no extra charge.

Expecting and Parenting Youth

Benefit Name	Expectant Parent Payment	Infant Supplement
Benefit Department	Department of Children and Family Services (DCFS)
Benefit Description	Funds are available for pregnant youth in foster care to prepare for the birth of the child.	Funds are available to a parenting youth in foster care once the infant is born, and remains under their care, to cover the additional cost of providing food, clothing, and shelter for an infant.
Benefit Eligibility	$900.00 per month in the 7th, 8th, and 9th month of pregnancy is available to pregnant youth in foster care. The funding is paid directly to the minor or non-minor dependent (NMD) residing in a Supervised Independent Living Program (SILP). Regardless of her placement, the youth should be given the Expectant Parent Payment to purchase needed baby items and prepare for the birth of her child.	$900.00 per month is provided after the birth of the non-detained infant of a parenting youth in foster care. The Infant Supplement (IS) is paid to the caregiver or transitional housing provider if the youth is in placement; a portion of it may be directly given to youth residing in transitional housing. Parenting non-minor dependents (NMDs) residing in a Supervised Independent Living Placement (SILP) receive the IS directly, with their foster-care payment. DCFS should also ensure that the non-detained children of parenting foster youth have Medi-Cal. A parenting non-minor dependent (NMD) youth who is not living in an approved placement and therefore is not receiving funding can apply for CalWORKs until such time as she is receiving foster-care funding and the Infant Supplement; a youth cannot receive both CalWORKs and the Infant Supplement (IS).
Access to Benefit/ Action Steps to Receiving Benefit	To receive EPP, provide your social worker with a copy of an official medical record, given to you by a health care provider, containing both a verification of pregnancy and the expected delivery date. HELPFUL LINKS https://dcfs.lacounty.gov/youth/teen-parenting/ 	For IS, contact your social worker to submit a referral to initiate Infant Supplement payments, as well as Medi-Cal coverage for your infant. HELPFUL LINKS https://dcfs.lacounty.gov/youth/teen-parenting/
Length of Benefit	Up through age 21	Ongoing
Benefit Amount	$900/month in the 7th, 8th, and 9th month of pregnancy	$900/month

| Benefit Description                                     | CalWORKs is an entitlement established to provide cash aid and services to eligible families that have a child or children in the home. Most parenting non-minor dependents (NMDs) should receive the Infant Supplement; they are eligible for CalWORKs only if they are not getting the Infant Supplement. There are penalties if both benefits (Infant Supplement and CalWORKs) are accessed simultaneously.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Benefit Eligibility                                     | CalWORKs Eligibility for Non-Minor Dependents CalWORKs is available to non-minor dependents (NMDs or youth who are in foster care after their 18th birthday) only if they are not being funded for their current placement. As soon as a placement is approved, the NMD must disenroll from CalWORKs. Biological parents who have an open case but still have their children in their physical care at least 50% of the time may also apply for CalWORKs. To be eligible, NMDs must: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ Reside in California and intend to stay</li> <li>▪ Have a child or be pregnant</li> <li>▪ Be a United States citizen or a lawful immigrant</li> <li>▪ Have a Social Security number or have applied for one</li> <li>▪ Have a low monthly income</li> <li>▪ Have less than $2,250 in cash, bank accounts, and other resources ($3,500 if disabled or 60 years or older)</li> </ul> Cal-WORKS Eligibility for Expecting/Parenting Youth To be eligible for CalWORKs, a foster youth must have a child in their care at least 50% of the time. In addition, a CalWORKs applicant must meet the residency, income, and resource requirements of the program. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ Reside in California and intend to stay</li> <li>▪ Have child or be pregnant</li> <li>▪ Be a United States citizen or a lawful immigrant</li> <li>▪ Have a Social Security number or have applied for one</li> <li>▪ Have a low monthly income</li> <li>▪ Have less than $2,250 in cash, bank accounts, and other resources ($3,500 if disabled or 60 years or older)</li> </ul> |

| Benefit Description                                           | Whole Family Foster Home (WFFH) was created specifically for pregnant and parenting foster youth whose child is not a dependent of the court. The intent is to keep teen parents with their children and out of the foster-care system by helping them develop skills to provide a safe, stable, and permanent home for their children. This is achieved through extra support services from the DCFS and other programs throughout Los Angeles County. A WFFH certified caregiver and the teen parent have the option to develop a Shared Responsibility Plan (SRP). The SRP is created to help develop the parent-child bond, assist the teen parent in their transition to independence, and create a successful, supportive, and nurturing placement for both the teen parent and the child. In addition, the SRP provides clear, realistic guidelines for both the teen parent and the adult caregiver as to the responsibilities of each. The caregiver receives an additional $200 a month in SRP rate, which is available for each non-dependent child for whom an SRP has been developed. | The California Department of Social Services provides an additional $200 in addition to the Infant Supplement (page 48) paid to non-minor dependent (NMD) parents residing in a supervised independent living placement (SILP), upon completion of certain requirements. Like the $200 payment available to a caregiver if they are a certified Whole Family Foster Home (WFFH) who enters into a Shared Responsibility Plan (SRP) with the teen parent, this is a similar opportunity for a NMD parent living in a SILP to obtain an extra payment by entering into a Parenting Support Plan (PSP) with an identified responsible adult mentor. The PSP will identify significant supports to assist the NMD parent in developing the skills necessary to provide a safe, stable, and permanent home for their child; to assist the NMD parent in a SILP in providing the best care plan for their child (WIC §16501.26); to detail the ways that the adult mentor will assist the NMD parent; and to identify supportive services to be offered to the NMD parent. |

| Length of Benefit                                       | Families may receive a time-limited child care voucher to assist with child care costs for foster children birth through age 12, and for youth with exceptional needs up to age 21. A voucher may be issued for up to six-months until the child is successfully transitioned into long-term, subsidized child care. Eligibility may be extended an additional six-months at the discretion of the county.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Benefit Amount                                          | Child care is approved for up to six months with a possible six-month extension, for a total of 12 months, during which a child-care systems navigator works with the resource parent to transition the same child-care provider to an alternative long-term child-care subsidy OR to identify another child-care provider who can serve the child in the long term. The child-care systems navigator will make every effort to ensure continuity of child care with the same provider. However, once the full 12 months of Emergency Child Care Bridge Program eligibility are exhausted, it is possible that a new long-term child-care option with another child-care provider will have to be explored. |

Benefit Name	Special Supplemental Nutrition Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC)
Benefit Department	Federal grant program administered through the California Department of Public Health Department of Children and Family Services (DCFS)
Benefit Description	The Special Supplement Nutrition Program for Women, Infant and Children (WIC) is a federal grant program that provides free food and nutrition education for pregnant, postpartum, and breastfeeding women, infants, and children up to age 5 who have a low income (up to 185% of the federal poverty level) and are at nutritional risk.
Benefit Eligibility	WIC is for all types of families: married and single parents, working or not working. If you are a father, mother, grandparent, foster parent, or other guardian of a child under five, you can apply for WIC. You can also apply if you are pregnant or had a pregnancy loss within the last 6 months. In order to be eligible for WIC, you must: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Be in one of the following groups: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Pregnant women Breastfeeding women up to one year after the birth of the baby (postpartum) Non-breastfeeding women up to six months after the birth of the baby Women who have lost a pregnancy within the past six months Infants and children under five years old Foster children under five years old Single fathers, grandparents, and other legal guardians of children age five years or younger may receive benefits for eligible infants/children Families living in the U.S. Meet the income guidelines in this table: WIC Income Guidelines & Requirements - CA PHFE WIC
Access to Benefit/ Action Steps to Receiving Benefit	Start the enrollment process by answering a few questions on the Apply for WIC page. A WIC representative will contact you for more information. While offices remain closed to the public, all appointments and benefits are being provided virtually (by phone). You are asked prepared to provide required paperwork during your phone appointment, such as: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Identification (example: driver's license, state ID, immunization card, birth certificate, Medi-Cal/Medicaid card, etc.) Proof of address (example: any piece of mail with your name and current address, rent receipt, bill, Medi-Cal/Medicaid card, CalFresh/SNAP letter) Proof of income (example: pay stub, disability/unemployment letter, active Medi-Cal/Medicaid card, CalFresh/SNAP letter) WIC referral form completed by health care provider or doctor, if available HELPFUL LINKS Apply for WIC Online - Sign Up Here PHFE WIC
Length of Benefit	WIC is a short-term program. Therefore, a participant will "graduate" at the end of one or more certification periods. A certification period is the length of time a WIC participant is eligible to receive benefits. Depending on whether the individual is pregnant, postpartum, breastfeeding, an infant, or a child, an eligible individual usually receives WIC benefits from 6 months to a year, at which time s/he must reapply.
Benefit Amount	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> $24 each month for children ages 1–4 $43 each month for pregnant and postpartum participants $47 each month for breastfeeding and chestfeeding postpartum participants

Priority enrollment/registration for some higher-education opportunities is available to youth per SB 906, which established that current and former foster youth (in care after their 16th birthday and now under the age of 26) are entitled to priority enrollment/registration at community colleges and California State Universities; the bill requested that the University of California grant priority enrollment/registration as well.

Priority housing is available to youth per AB 1228. This requires that CSUs and UCs allow foster youth and homeless youth priority housing and to remain in housing that is available during academic breaks at no extra charge.

| Benefit Description                                 | The Adoption Assistance Program (AAP) provides financial and medical coverage to facilitate the adoption of children who otherwise would remain in long-term foster care. The adoptive family is eligible for post-adoption services that may include resource and referral connections, brief case management, and crisis intervention. Youth adopted after their 16th birthday are also eligible for Independent Living Program (ILP) services (page 6), except for housing assistance. AAP funding is paid only to an adoptive parent.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |

| Benefit Description                                  | CalWORKs is an entitlement established to provide cash aid and services to eligible families that have a child or children in the home. Most parenting non-minor dependents (NMDs) should receive the Infant Supplement; they are eligible for CalWORKs only if they are not getting the Infant Supplement. There are penalties if both benefits (Infant Supplement and CalWORKs) are accessed simultaneously.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Benefit Eligibility                                  | CalWORKs Eligibility for Non-Minor Dependents CalWORKs is available to non-minor dependents (NMDs or youth who are in foster care after their 18th birthday) only if they are not being funded for their current placement. As soon as a placement is approved, the NMD must disenroll from CalWORKs. Biological parents who have an open case but still have their children in their physical care at least 50% of the time may also apply for CalWORKs. To be eligible, NMDs must: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ Reside in California and intend to stay</li> <li>▪ Have a child or be pregnant</li> <li>▪ Be a United States citizen or a lawful immigrant</li> <li>▪ Have a Social Security number or have applied for one</li> <li>▪ Have a low monthly income</li> <li>▪ Have less than $2,250 in cash, bank accounts, and other resources ($3,500 if disabled or 60 years or older)</li> </ul> Cal-WORKs Eligibility for Expecting/Parenting Youth To be eligible for CalWORKs, a foster youth must have a child in their care at least 50% of the time. In addition, a CalWORKs applicant must meet the residency, income, and resource requirements of the program. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ Reside in California and intend to stay</li> <li>▪ Have child or be pregnant</li> <li>▪ Be a United States citizen or a lawful immigrant</li> <li>▪ Have a Social Security number or have applied for one</li> <li>▪ Have a low monthly income</li> <li>▪ Have less than $2,250 in cash, bank accounts, and other resources ($3,500 if disabled or 60 years or older)</li> </ul> |

| Benefit Description | CalFresh is the California name for the federal Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP), an entitlement established to improve the nutrition of people in low-income households. CalFresh benefits are used instead of money at most grocery stores and farmers' markets.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Benefit Eligibility | Eligibility for CalFresh benefits is based on the income of a household. Household For CalFresh purposes, a household is a group of people who live together AND buy and prepare food together. Youth under age 18 who are living with a foster family or with their biological family cannot apply for CalFresh separately from the family. In households in which meals are purchased and prepared together (i.e., Resource Family homes), non-minor dependents (NMDs) may not apply for CalFresh separately from their household. Instead, the head of household may apply for CalFresh on behalf of the entire household. In households in which meals are purchased and prepared separately (i.e., THP-NMD, renting a room in a SILP), non-minor dependents (NMDs) may apply for CalFresh as a separate household. Income CalFresh eligibility is based on the total income a household has. If a non-minor dependent is receiving Supervised Independent Living Placement (SILP) benefits, the SILP benefits count as income. Youth in many different placement types can apply for CalFresh, including youth living in transitional housing. However, youth living in Short-Term Residential Treatment Programs (STRTPs) or Qualified Residential Treatment Programs (QRTPs) are not eligible for CalFresh. Students Persons may also be eligible if they meet the following CalFresh Student Eligibility requirements: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ Age: from your 18th birthday through the day before your 49th birthday</li> <li>▪ Be enrolled at least half-time in an institution of higher education</li> <li>▪ Work 20 hours per week or 80 hours averaged monthly OR be exempt from these requirements</li> </ul> CalFresh Student Exemption Criteria <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>▪ Employed for a minimum of 20 hours per week</li> <li>▪ Approved for work/study for the current term and anticipate working during the school term</li> <li>▪ A parent with a dependent child under age 6</li> <li>▪ A parent with a dependent child ages 6 to 12 AND a lack of adequate child care preventing from attending class and working 20 hours per week or participating in work/study</li> <li>▪ Enrolled full-time in a higher-education institution AND a single parent with a dependent child under age 12</li> <li>▪ Participating in Extended Foster Care</li> <li>▪ Receiving a Cal Grant A or B at a community college, California State University, or University of California; unmarried, 25 years or younger; and income of less than $50,000 per year</li> <li>▪ Receiving a Chafee Education and Training Voucher</li> <li>▪ Participating in a foster-youth campus support program (i.e., Guardian Scholars, FYSI, CAFYES/NextUp)</li> </ul> |

Priority enrollment/registration for some higher-education opportunities is available to youth per SB 906, which established that current and former foster youth (in care after their 16th birthday and now under the age of 26) are entitled to priority enrollment/registration at community colleges and California State Universities; the bill requested that the University of California grant priority enrollment/registration as well.

Priority housing is available to youth per AB 1228. This requires that CSUs and UCs allow foster youth and homeless youth priority housing and to remain in housing that is available during academic breaks at no extra charge.

Priority enrollment/registration for some higher-education opportunities is available to youth per SB 906, which established that current and former foster youth (in care after their 16th birthday and now under the age of 26) are entitled to priority enrollment/registration at community colleges and California State Universities; the bill requested that the University of California grant priority enrollment/registration as well.

Priority housing is available to youth per AB 1228. This requires that CSUs and UCs allow foster youth and homeless youth priority housing and to remain in housing that is available during academic breaks at no extra charge.
