Commercial Performance Coatings (CPC)

This cost-effective industrial line comes in many forms – from alkyds and conventional solid undercoats and topcoats to high-performance, low-VOC urethanes and powder coatings.

PPG AMERCOAT® protective coatings

A range of high-performance protective coatings designed to deliver long-term protection from the harshest elements. The Amercoat brand includes zincs, alkyds, polyurethanes, epoxies and our patented PSX® polysiloxane technology.

PPG DELFLEET ESSENTIAL® coatings

Quality, efficiency, economy – proven in the transportation industry, these 2K coatings provide a broad color palette that is easy to apply as a basecoat/clearcoat or as a direct gloss option.

PPG ENVIROCROK® family of powder coatings

PPG's flagship powder coating brand is available in a wide variety of tough finishes and specialty formulations, including high transfer efficiency and single-coat applications.

The power of PPG

World-class technology and innovative products

PPG is one of the world's preeminent suppliers of coatings solutions. We can strategically deliver innovative technologies to manufacturers and custom coaters who need quick, reliable and effective service to accelerate their businesses. We are one of the few global providers to offer expertise in every major coating technology – not just powder coatings, but also pretreatment, liquid coatings and electrocoats.

Dependable inventory management and delivery

Partnership with PPG includes a personalized inventory-management program that provides the products you need, delivered on time. We'll keep your coatings and sundries stocked in our local professional service centers and PPG authorized independent distributors based on the minimum levels you require. By utilizing our local distribution, you take the risk out of last-minute inventory management and reduce the amount of material stocked on your shop floor.

Full technical, application and sales support

PPG delivers world-class technical support. Our representatives can assist you with setting up a new coatings line or auditing an existing one to find ways to make your process faster and more efficient. We'll provide on-site application training for your line operators and teach your sales reps how to speak with your customers about the benefits of our products. We also offer additional support, including access to marketing material and online accounts for efficient tracking and bill payment.

One-stop shopping

We provide much more than innovative coatings. Your local professional service center and PPG authorized independent distributors can also deliver the supplies and sundries you need, including custom aerosols for touch ups, GRACO® spray guns, PPG TOP GUN™ caulks, wire cages, chip brushes, drop cloths and plastic, tape, booth cleaning products and more.

Looking to refresh the look of your facility? Leverage our full range of architectural and industrial coatings to refresh everything from office spaces and building exteriors to work areas and equipment.
