

Annual Report of Examinations: Primary Eligibility Pathway 2020

Introduction

The ARRT offers two eligibility pathways for certification and registration: primary and postprimary. This report summarizes the results of examinations taken through the primary eligibility pathway in 2020 for Radiography (RAD), Nuclear Medicine (NMT), Radiation Therapy (THR), Sonography (SON), and Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI). This report uses an annual cycle from January to December that aligns with updates to the content specifications and clinical competency requirements for these exams. During the reported cycle, both the Sonography and Magnetic Resonance Imaging exams could be taken through either the primary or postprimary eligibility pathway. Only results for those taking the exams through the primary eligibility pathway are reported here.

This report summarizes exam volume, first-time candidate exam performance, individual percentile ranks, and school percentile ranks for each examination separately. Each following section presents a brief content outline for the exam and the number of items in each category. Specific results for 2020 are presented including mean scaled section scores, mean total scaled scores, and pass rates as well as charts with historical pass rates and candidate volumes for each exam. Finally, a map detailing first-time candidate volume, mean scaled score, and percent passing for educational programs in each state is included.

Data in this report are not intended to be used as the sole source for educational program evaluation. When interpreting performance at the educational program or state level, it is important to acknowledge that these results are sensitive to multiple factors. These factors may include but are not limited to the number of candidates upon which the means are computed, characteristics of those candidates, educational program admissions criteria, and the emphasis of an educational program's curriculum.

Interpretation of Scores

Total Scaled Score: The ARRT uses scaled scores to report exam results. Total scaled scores can range from 1 to 99.

Scaled scores are desirable because they account for any differences in difficulty between two or more versions of an exam. The use of scaled scores adjusts for differences in exam difficulty such that a given scaled score corresponds to the same level of performance regardless of exam form and permits comparison of exam results over time. Using scaled scores also ensures that those taking different forms are not penalized for taking a slightly more difficult exam.

Scaled scores are sometimes mistaken for percent correct scores. This confusion likely arises because ARRT scaled scores and percentages share a similar range of values. However, a scaled score of 75 does not mean that a candidate correctly answered 75% of the test items.

Section Scores: Scaled scores are used to report performance on each section of the exam. The primary purpose of the section scores is to provide general information to candidates regarding their strengths and weaknesses in particular content categories. Section scores can range from 0.1 to 9.9 and are reported in one-tenth point intervals (e.g., 8.1, 8.6). Section scores are intentionally placed on a narrower scale because they are often based on a small number of test items. Therefore, section scores are not as reliable as the total scaled score and should be interpreted with some caution.

Passing Score: A total scaled score of 75 is required to pass all ARRT exams. This pass-fail point, called the “cut score,” is established by ARRT’s Board of Trustees through a process called standard setting. During the standard setting process, the Board receives input from a panel representing a broad constituency of radiologic technologists. The cut score represents the performance standard required to obtain certification and registration; those who meet or exceed the standard pass the exam. Beginning in 2013, the Sonography exam also requires a section scaled score of 7.5 or greater in both the Abdomen and OB/GYN sections.

Readers interested in more detailed reporting, such as an explanation of ARRT’s scaling procedures, or past years’ reports are encouraged to visit the exam statistics page on the ARRT website.

Updates

On January 1, 2020, ARRT began using a new cut score for the NMT examination. Although ARRT will continue to report the exam’s cut score as a scaled score of 75, the new cut score requires passing candidates to answer a few more questions correctly than they had to in the past.

Updated content specifications were implemented for the MRI examination on January 1, 2020.

During 2020, the COVID-19 pandemic caused disruptions to ARRT’s contracted assessment provider, Pearson VUE. For several weeks, there were no exam appointments in most Pearson Professional Centers. For most of 2020, Pearson Professional Center locations could offer only limited capacity for assessment appointments. Please keep this in mind when interpreting the statistics in this report.
