

If you want to use our fonts legally, you need one of the following licences

Desktop Licence

Use of fonts on a personal computer and export to PDF.
Anyone who use the font needs
a licence.

1. Use of fonts on a personal computer
and export to PDF
2. Buy licence for number of users (base price is for 1 user)
3. Protect the fonts from copying or stealing by a third person 4. Converting or modification is not permitted
5. When using the fonts, give credit to the author.

Examples:
Typeface Samo Sans by CarnokyType (carnokytype.com)
Set in Samo Sans by Samuel Čarnoký (carnokytype.com)

Webfont Licence

Using of our fonts as (copy-paste) texts.
The owner of the domain needs
a licence.

Webfont = 1 × Desktop price

1. You can use webfonts for unlimited number of domains
2. Use fonts with @Font-Face technology only
3. Protect the fonts with subsetting
4. Include the copyright information in the provided CSS file 5. Converting or embedding webfonts with other technology is not permitted 6. You don't need this licence, if you want to use fonts as images (.jpg, .gif etc.)

App Licence

Web or mobile apps, Games, Embedding fonts in the software, etc.

App licence = 5 × Desktop price

- * Contact us by email for this licensing option

TV Licence

Broadcasting, Series, TV ads, Movies...

1 TV licence = 10 × Desktop price

- * Contact us by email for this licensing
option

Ebook Licence

Using of fonts in Ebooks.
An Ebook licence gives you the right to use particular font in one (1) Ebook.
For using that font in more eBooks, you can use multi-user discount for calculating the price.

Single Ebook = 1 × Desktop price
More Ebooks = multi-user discount

- * Contact us by email for this licensing
option