

BERKELEY RIVER LODGE

2026 PACKAGE INCLUSIONS & OVERVIEW

KIMBERLEY COAST, WESTERN AUSTRALIA

WHERE LUXURY
LETS ITS HAIR down

Having worked in luxury travel for over twenty five years, I've witnessed firsthand how discerning travellers seek authentic experiences that go beyond the ordinary.

When I joined Berkeley River Lodge as Director of Sales and Marketing, I knew immediately this was something special – a property that doesn't just offer accommodation, but provides access to one of the world's most pristine wilderness frontiers.

What sets Berkeley River Lodge apart in today's competitive luxury market is our unwavering commitment to intimacy and exclusivity. While others chase volume, we deliberately limit our capacity to a maximum of thirty-six guests at a time. This isn't a constraint – it's our greatest strength. It allows our team to deliver truly personalised service and curate experiences that simply aren't possible at larger properties.

I've seen how Berkeley River Lodge consistently exceeds expectations. Our guests don't just visit the Kimberley – they become part of its story. From helicopter flights over the King George Falls to intimate dining under star-filled skies, every moment is crafted to create lasting memories and, importantly for our agent partners, offer once in a lifetime experiences to your clients.

The Kimberley represents Australia's last true wilderness frontier – a place where ancient rock art tells 40,000-year-old stories and where the rhythm of tides creates an ever-changing canvas of natural beauty. We've spent years building relationships with traditional landowners and developing sustainable practices that ensure this landscape remains pristine for future generations.

I'm passionate about working with travel professionals who understand the value of barefoot luxury. Berkeley River Lodge offers you and your clients something genuinely rare – an exclusive gateway to experiences that money typically can't buy, delivered with the personalised service that creates clients for life.

2026 not only welcomes in an evolution of a Kimberley icon, it sees an expanded focus on working with you to share Berkeley River Lodge with the world. Highly regarded West Australian tourism professional Cory Gale has joined the team, bringing extensive expertise in marketing and partnerships from across Australia and the globe. Like me, Cory is Perth based, and following 7 years at Tourism WA brings an understanding of the intricacies, strengths and opportunities in the Kimberley region. And also like me, the Kimberley made an impression on him with its powerful allure, supernatural colour contrasts and sense of wonder.

why FIVE NIGHTS?

At Berkeley River Lodge, we've carefully designed our guest experiences to strike the perfect balance between adventure, connection to country, and true relaxation.

For the 2026 season and beyond, all stays at the lodge will be five nights—no shorter, no longer. Why? Quite simply, it's the sweet spot.

- Berkeley is not a stopover — it's the destination. A fly-in only property, nestled in one of the most remote corners of the world, designed to immerse guests in the Kimberley landscape.
- The five-night journey is a fully curated all-inclusive experience. Combining scenic flights from Kununurra, guided adventures, gourmet dining and beverages, time to relax, and now, exciting new inclusions. These include fully refreshed lodge interiors and exteriors, complimentary in-villa minibar, Kimberley Spa, plus additional Kimberley Safari & Waterholes adventure and Morning Movement wellness experience.
- 4 full days experiencing the Kimberley magic. Scenic flights from Kununurra arrive in the late afternoon (around 4pm) on day one and depart early in the morning on day six. Four days is required to immerse in all bespoke touring, while allowing time to stop and soak in the wilderness of the lodge.
- Anything less than five nights shortchanges the guest. It limits their ability to experience the property fully and soak up the Kimberley magic, disrupts the flow of our carefully planned logistics, and ultimately compromises the product.
- The five-night model is also operationally essential. It aligns with our guest arrival schedules, room turnover, and staffing, while protecting the exclusivity we're known for.

We've trialled different formats over the years, and five nights has proven to be the ideal duration—not just for us, but for our guests and trade partners too. It ensures seamless logistics, consistent service delivery, and, most importantly, deeply satisfied guests who leave feeling enriched and rejuvenated.

We appreciate your continued support in sharing this extraordinary destination with your clients and thank you for respecting the five-night structure as a key part of delivering the Berkeley magic.

THE PERFECT SEASON

The May to August season offers distinct advantages for different guest interests. May showcases waterfalls at their spectacular peak flow following the wet season, creating dramatic cascades perfect for photography and exploration. June delivers perfect stargazing conditions with crystal-clear skies and minimal humidity, ideal for guests seeking celestial experiences. July provides the best wildlife viewing opportunities as animals congregate around permanent water sources, offering exceptional game spotting and birdwatching. August presents ideal fishing conditions with calm waters and active marine life, perfect for both novice and experienced anglers seeking that prize catch.

Please note: Due to our diverse wildlife, swimming in the ocean and river is not an option. We share a special environment where Saltwater Crocodiles are always present, and guests might be lucky enough to see one - even on long open beaches. It is important to always be crocwise in northern Australia. We do take guests to some very special spots to cool off safely in freshwater rock pools or under a magical waterfall. We also have a beautiful swimming pool with spectacular views over the coast, new sun lounges for soaking under our clear Kimberley skies and direct access to the barefoot luxury hospitality of Dunes Restaurant.
