

Kelly Doucette, DVM, Senior Advisor, External Innovation

Kelly holds her DVM degree from the University of Georgia, USA. She has experience as a small animal practitioner, as well as broad experience in veterinary industry. She started in industry as a Professional Services Veterinarian with Hill's Pet Nutrition, Inc. She moved into the pharmaceutical industry with Novartis Animal Health as a Global Technical Veterinarian for dermatology and pain/orthopedics she led the technical global launch of multiple pet health therapeutics. She moved to Elanco Animal Health continuing with Global Marketing, and later moved into External Innovation. She has over 25 years' experience in veterinary industry focusing on pet health and is passionate about bringing innovation to the broader veterinary market.

