

Orientation and Mobility for Firefighters

The School for the Blind Budapest offers a 5 day international course for O&M instructors and firefighters based on a brand new idea.

Idea and aim

On this special training, the O&M instructors teach firefighters a more subtle use of senses and the instructors show that it is not only vision that can help orientation. Through working out, presenting and acquiring the firefighters' O&M method, embedding it into daily practice, and adapting the unified communication code, firefighters will be able to move self-confidently and safely in unfavourable visual conditions.

Using and applying this knowledge to make cognitive and overview maps, this increases the efficiency of operations.
