Award

Globally recognised health, safety, environmental, risk and wellbeing qualifications

Who is it for?

Anyone involved in managing workplace health and safety risks, including those who undertake risk assessments. The content will be particularly useful to employers, managers, supervisors, SHE champions and union and health and safety representatives.

What will I learn?

The NEBOSH HSE Award in Managing Risks and Risk Assessment at Work is an introductory level qualification, developed in conjunction with the health and safety regulator for Great Britain, the Health and Safety Executive (HSE). It is structured around HSE's approach to controlling the risks caused by workplace hazards.

On completion of this course, you will be able to understand:

- The reasons for managing health and safety risks, the need for competence of those involved and the importance of consultation with relevant workers
- How to effectively manage risk, which will involve identification and understanding of risk potential and its control
- How to evaluate risks in a proportionate and sensible manner
- Where to find sources of information to help identify and manage risk, and the application of the HSE risk assessment tools.

How will it help me?

This qualification will help you:

- Develop straightforward practical skills to manage workplace risks; something all employers need
- Build confidence in your risk assessment capabilities
- Contribute to the creation of a safer and healthier workplace as soon as you return to work.
