Formerly known as the ‘public equity’ division of Downing LLP, Downing Fund Managers (DFM) was founded in 2010 as a boutique investment house with a value-based style that favours a private equity approach to investing in public markets.

This guide looks at how Downing Fund Managers has evolved, the line-up of funds and fund managers, and considers the entrepreneurial investment culture that’s helped the team grow over the years.

Downing Fund Managers is part of Downing LLP, a long-established investment manager based in London. Downing LLP’s heritage is in managing tax-efficient products and running privately listed assets.

Founded in 1986, the company now manages approximately £1.7 billion of assets, across a range of products including the ventures and healthcare enterprise investment schemes (EIS), a number of venture capital trusts (VCT), and several inheritance tax (IHT) services (as at 31 March 2022).

The range of mandates covered by Downing Fund Managers now consists of six funds - all different from, and complementary to, each other. The 15-strong DFM team runs more than £500 million of publicly listed assets (as at 31 May 2022).

Judith MacKenzie
Head of Downing
Fund Managers

Our story...so far

Downing Fund Managers is headed up by Judith MacKenzie, a Partner who also sits on Downing LLP's Executive Committee.

Judith joined Downing LLP in October 2009 from Acuity Capital where she managed AIM-quoted IHT and VCT investments as well as a small-cap activist fund. Soon after, she founded Downing Public Equity.

In 2016, the Querns Monthly Income Fund was taken over. This fund was later rebranded the VT Downing Small & Mid-Cap Income Fund following some minor changes to the mandate. In 2017, Judith became lead manager of Downing's first closed-ended product, following the launch of the Downing Strategic Micro-Cap Investment Trust.

By the end of 2020, three more funds had been added: the VT Downing Unique Opportunities Fund, the VT Downing Global Investors Fund and the VT Downing European Unconstrained Income Fund. This boosted the suite of offers to five specialist boutique funds, giving investors a wide choice of clear investment strategies that are threaded together by a hands-on investment approach and entrepreneurial culture.

Judith explains: "We're not frenetic asset gatherers. We have taken 10 years to grow our business to this level, carefully growing assets and ensuring we have the right vehicle for the investment mandates that we offer investors. Being a compact investment house means we're more open and transparent; investors can easily see and hear what they are getting direct from the horse's mouth."

In March 2022, DFM added the VT Downing Listed Infrastructure Income Fund to it's line up. The fund offers investors exposure to a diversified portfolio of UK listed infrastructure and renewable energy investment trusts.

“We never lose sight that it’s our job to return value for our shareholders and stakeholders.”

Judith MacKenzie

Downing Strategic Micro-Cap Investment Trust

Judith MacKenzie is lead manager of the Downing Strategic Micro-Cap Investment Trust.

“My heritage and background have always been in small and micro-cap investing, very much looking at both public and private markets at the same time,” Judith says. “I started off about 25 years ago as a small cap analyst at Brewin Dolphin, before moving to Aberdeen Asset Management where I spent nine years looking at private and AIM-listed companies. I am a firm believer in truly active investment management and sit on the board of a number of our portfolio companies.”

In the small cap space, Judith proactively engages and works alongside management to realise value and drive returns. “We often invest in things that many other investors would not want to touch. We invest over a long investment cycle, looking at between a three to seven-year time horizon.”

The investment process itself is cash flow focused and aims to identify companies which have either historical, current, or near-term potential to generate significant, positive free cash flows.

“We describe ourselves as value-led investors but there are so many factors to value and investors have so many interpretations of it. We’re not scared of buying growth, we just want to pay the right price for it.”

Working alongside Judith in managing the Downing Strategic micro-cap portfolio is Nick Hawthorn, Fund Manager. Nick joined Downing in September 2015 from BP Investment Management, where he worked in the private equity team. Prior to this, he worked in group finance for Aberdeen Asset Management.

Josh McCathie

VT Downing Small & Mid-Cap Income Fund & VT Downing Listed Infrastructure Income Fund

Josh McCathie joined Downing in 2018 as an analyst and took over as lead manager of the VT Downing Small & Mid-Cap Income Fund in April 2021. In March 2022, Downing launched the VT Downing Listed Infrastructure Income Fund, with Josh as lead manager.

Josh has over 8 years’ experience in the industry. After studying Economics & Politics, he began his career at BRI Wealth Management focusing on UK equity research and portfolio management.

The VT Downing Small & Mid-Cap Income Fund is a focused 30-50 stock portfolio of small and mid-cap equities listed in the UK. The fund specifically invests outside of the FTSE 100, looking at companies from c.£100 million up to c.£4 billion market cap.

The majority of IA UK Equity Income sector is focused on large cap equities. “The top 15 dividend payers by absolute value account for 65% of all UK dividends, so naturally there is a concentration around these names,” he says. “These are drawn from industries largely perceived as low growth, such as banks, tobacco, oil & gas, and mining. Broadening the investment universe across the market cap spectrum not only offers diversification from those top 15 dividend payers, but also offers a greater mix of exciting industries.”

The VT Downing Listed Infrastructure Income Fund offers a low-cost* and low-touch approach to access the UK listed infrastructure and renewable energy investment trust universe. It aims to give investors diversified exposure to >35 different investment mandates across >2000 individual infrastructure projects focusing on five core sectors: digital, social infrastructure, energy, transport and utilities.

Rosemary Banyard

VT Downing Unique Opportunities Fund

Rosemary Banyard joined Downing Fund Managers in March 2020 to launch the VT Downing Unique Opportunities Fund. With over three decades in the industry, she rose to prominence during her 23 years at Schroders, where she developed a reputation as one of the UK's leading fund managers.

For many years Rosemary was known for running the acclaimed Schroder UK Smaller Companies Fund with Andy Brough. She was the lead manager of the Schroder Mid Cap Fund Investment Trust, and headed-up several other segregated UK equity mandates, taking large stakes in a number of small UK companies and managing total assets of around £1 billion.

"My entire investment career has been spent managing UK equity funds. I specialise in small and mid-caps and, to an extent, the lower end of the FTSE 100 - areas where there is now a lot more interest from investors," Rosemary says.

The VT Downing Unique Opportunities Fund aims to invest in 25 to 40 UK mid and small-cap companies that can achieve above average returns on equity because they have a strong, protected and sustainable competitive advantage.

"Downing is a great fit for me because they have extensive experience in both micro-cap and income investing and my investment philosophy and my target range of companies essentially starts where they leave off in terms of scale."

"I believe I have honed my investment philosophy and process over the years and this fund is the culmination of that evolution."

Anthony Eaton

VT Downing Global Investors Fund

Anthony Eaton joined Downing Fund Managers in March 2020 to manage the VT Downing Global Investors Fund. He was formerly lead manager of the CF JM Finn Global Opportunities Fund from 2005 until its sale to Thornbridge in 2019. Under Anthony's stewardship, the fund established a long-term track record, achieving 10.40% compound annualised growth*.

The VT Downing Global Investors Fund invests in companies that supply the wants and needs of the expanding global middle-class population.

"The investment thesis is that the dominant driver of events is going to be the continuing expansion of the global middle-class. Moving the needle will be the six billion people outside the West, with the middle class in Asia being prominent. The strategy is to own businesses that cater to the consumer requirements of this homogenous group - wherever they are located, without geographical borders."

Anthony has applied this investment philosophy and process for over 15 years and to keep individual stock specific risk low the fund aims to invest in around 200 positions. "The fund is thematically invested - we seek to own businesses worldwide that engage with the macro-level growth phenomenon we have identified," he says. Anthony uses a number of investment screens to identify emerging patterns and then concentrates on selecting appropriate baskets of investments, rather than picking individual stocks.

For Anthony, Downing's entrepreneurial culture was the core attraction. "Not only is Downing seen as a dynamic company, but everyone who I spoke to prior to joining talked about its reputation as a business you can trust to do what they say they'll do."

Mike Clements and Pras Jeyanandhan

VT Downing European Unconstrained Income Fund

In November 2020, Mike Clements and Pras Jeyanandhan joined Downing Fund Managers to launch the VT Downing European Unconstrained Income Fund. Mike was formerly Head of European Equities and Pras was a Portfolio Manager at Swiss-based Syz Asset Management. This fund follows a similar approach as that adopted on the range of Oyster European strategies, which the duo had managed together for the last five years.

Pras explains, “Europe has changed structurally over the last decade with a shift away from ‘old economy’ exposure towards being more of a growth region. With this fund we are trying to offer a solution that allows UK investors to diversify their portfolios and gives themselves something different.”

The fund aims to hold around 30-40 high-quality companies across the European market cap spectrum, focusing on contrarian opportunities and ‘under the radar’ ideas. Mike says, “We aim to generate alpha (returns that beat the index) in two ways: by buying good quality, well-known companies that are temporarily out of favour with the market, and by buying those that are under the radar - stocks that are poorly researched or have fallen out of our peers’ investable universe.”

Downing’s venture capital and micro-cap ethos were attractive to both managers. “Judith and the team have a very distinct culture and investment style and that really appealed to both of us,” Mike says. “When Downing invests in a company, they treat it as if they are the owners of the business and we do the same, just in the public equity space.” Pras comments: “At Downing there is no pressure to move towards the consensus, in fact just the opposite. We slot in perfectly.”

Simon Evan-Cook

Fund Manager

Simon Evan-Cook joined Downing Fund Managers in February 2022. Simon is a multi-asset, fund-of-funds manager with over 25 years’ experience in financial services. He began his career with Fidelity in 1998, before joining Rothschild Asset Management then Gartmore. He joined Premier Asset Management in 2006 where he built his reputation as a senior member of their award-winning multi-asset team.

At Downing, he runs two white-labelled multi-asset funds which he took on in April 2022, and is planning the launch of a range of Downing-branded funds run on the same basis.

A key reason Simon cites for joining Downing is the culture. “When I’m picking fund managers, the culture of the team and the business is a major thing I’m looking for. I try to find the good and avoid the bad like the plague. At Downing – what you see is what you get – its “truth” fits with the image you see in the marketplace. It’s supportive without being interfering, the wider culture is entrepreneurial and dynamic, and we’re dead set on not creating beige “me-too” products.”

Simon joined Downing Fund Managers with a keen eye on the “clean sheet of paper” with which to work. “So many existing products or teams have legacy processes, legacy fund ranges; legacy charging structures; legacy client bases and so on. All of these prevent you from standing back and creating what I consider to be the very best product range for advisers for the 2020s and beyond. I’ve spent years thinking about the very best way to structure such an offering, so that it can avoid these legacy problems, and then to manage that for the long term. We’re working on a product that is simple and reliable but designing something that’s simple is a devilishly complicated task!”
