Locally and family-owned, Royse Brinkmeyer is on a mission to create great communities. The company thinks of themselves as a customer service company that just so happens to offer housing. Royse Brinkmeyer pride themselves on being good community members and forging strong relationships with our residents.

The Challenge

The company needed a solution to track inventory in their existing remote storeroom, as well as the ability to track inventory in multiple storerooms in the future, as the company grows.

The Solution

According to Keith Wingate, director of maintenance at Royse Brinkmeyer Apartments, the company had previously used an older version of the Wasp inventory management solution. After doing his research, Wingate decided to upgrade to the newer, cloud-based Wasp inventory management solution.

The Result

"We stayed with Wasp because we had used their old software for many years and found it to be a very good product," said Wingate.

Wingate is pleased with his team's ability to use the software while out in the field, as well as its ability to grow with the company. "Wasp's inventory management solution has allowed us to use more remote storerooms," said Wingate.
