THE TOWN

James Lee/unsplash

Capistrano Beach, only 2.1 square miles, has managed to remain a small town without the development that has happened in most of the surrounding Orange County area. However, you shouldn't let its size fool you. Many celebrities call Capistrano Beach home.

Visitors enjoy a less congested stay in California while still being close to major attractions like Disneyland and Legoland. Several beach hotels provide affordable vacation spots with access to the sandy beaches just across the street. Capistrano Beach is truly a unique destination.
