DEGREE AWARDS CEREMONY

Will you attend your graduation ceremony?

Keep in mind the following:

- You will receive your invitation to the ceremony no later than two weeks beforehand
- Bring with you a valid form of identification (passport, ID card or driver's license)
- If there are less than 6 graduates, the ceremony might be cancelled. If you are already registered for the graduation ceremony, you will automatically be moved to the next graduation ceremony.
- Due to all the COVID-19 measures, the graduation cannot be executed as originally intended.
 - Reception afterwards are not allowed
 - Guests will be invited to follow the ceremony through a livestream.

The graduation ceremony is an official part of the Master Cardiovascular Research/Master Oncology and not a formality. Therefore, your presence is mandatory. If, by any chance, you are unable to come to the ceremony, you need to send an official statement to your program (Cardiovascular Research or Oncology) with a valid reason for not attending. If the Exam Committee approves your request, you could get the option to obtain your diploma at the nearest Exam Committee meeting.

Note: being abroad for vacation or work is not a valid reason. In addition, it is not possible for your diploma to be sent via post due to strict academic regulations.
