Sick of hearing the Smiths bragging about their week in Tokyo? Tired of the Jones’s tails of their shopping trips to Dubai?
Then get ready for the antidote to all those ordinary holidays: an Epic Journey.
Inside these pages are some of the best adventures on our planet, spanning countries, continents and cultures.
More than a month aboard the luxurious Cunard ship Queen Elizabeth, travelling from Sydney to Tokyo; 26 nights through Russia to America aboard the ultra-luxe Crystal Symphony; 56 nights to London from Sydney on the all-new Vasco de Garma with Cruise and Maritime... The list goes on.
These, and all the other amazing journeys inside this magazine, are filled with fascinating shore excursions and jaw-dropping scenery.
These are dinner-table show stoppers. Bucket list items. Trips that most only dream of.
And the best part is that you can experience this amazing array of cities and citizens from the luxury of your floating hotel.
This collection of Epic Journeys is brought to you by Cruiseco, the cruise specialists. They have more than 200 trained agents and 15 years of experience, so they’re the best team to pick and organise the perfect journey for you – one that combines relaxation, recuperation and amazing adventure.
Mao Tze Tung said a journey of a thousand miles begins with just one step. So take that step – pick your journey now and prepare for a life-changing experience.

How to choose your epic journey

Cruise Passenger Publisher
Peter Lynch sings the praises of long sea voyages – and tells you how to pick your perfect one.

The Buddha’s famous travel quote – “happiness is a journey, not a destination” – could have been coined for long sea voyages.

Just look at the special London to Sydney cruise aboard the all-new Vasco da Gama, Cruise and Maritime Voyages’ latest fleet acquisition – a familiar ship for Australians, as she was formerly P&O’s Pacific Eden.

Of course, to get to Sydney you could fly from London in 23 hours and 10 minutes. But then you’d miss three nights in London, and 53 nights (plus 150 splendid meals) aboard an elegant, newly refurbished vessel with up to 1,220 like-minded travellers.

That’s 53 nights of great shows and entertainment, and 54 days lazing by the pool, enjoying a spa, playing games and dozens of shore excursions while you make new friends and swap stories.

Oh, and you’d also miss out on Lisbon, Casablanca, Las Palmas, Mindelo, Sao Vicente, Bridgetown, Barbados, The Panama Canal, San Juan, Acapulco, crossing the equator, Marquesas Islands, Papeete, Bora Bora, Rarotonga, Nuku’alofa, Auckland... and that fabulous grand entrance to Sydney Harbour. You don’t get a wake up call like that at Kingsford Smith Airport!

As well as that epic voyage, there are nine other journeys inside these pages that will allow you to enjoy a cultural feast from the comfort of your cabin or on your shore excursion. All this – and you unpack only once!

You’ll forge friendships that genuinely will last a lifetime with a convivial group of Australians, Europeans, Americans and Asians. Why? Because you’ve joined a club of sailors who enjoy a special kind of cruising.

Here are a few some rules to follow to make sure you walk up the gangway of the right ship to take off on a journey perfect for you.

HOW TO CHOOSE

• Ask yourself: ‘Which destinations have always been on my bucket list?’ and pick the cruise with the most.
• Check out the ship. Do you love quiet time or lots of activities? Check out the style of entertainment and the food offerings online. They will help you get a feel for the ship you’ll be spending lots of time aboard.
• Work out how many sea days there are, and make sure you’re comfortable with this.
• Remember that a world cruise is bound to attract an older crowd because they have the time and money to be away from their homes for several months.
• If you haven’t already, sign up for Facebook and WhatsApp so you can keep the family up to date – and make your friends envious!

WHAT TO PACK

Pack mix-and-match: clothes that go together in many different variations are great. As well as your day-to-day outfits, bring along smart casual and elegant clothes that will stand the test of many dinners in the main dining room – and at the captain’s table, if you’re lucky! Use those clever compression bags to neatly stow more clothes. Add jewellery and accessories to make clothes look different.

Pack neat: many cabins don’t have irons (though the laundry often does). Roll up clothes to prevent wrinkles.

Pack resort wear: rather than ripped denim, and three-quarter pants. Many cruise ships still restrict denim and short shorts. Sandals and slips-on shoes will get more use than thongs.

For shore excursions: bring a small umbrella – it can help with the sun as well as the rain – comfortable walking shoes and clothes that can be layered for varying weather. A light scarf and hat are good to deal with some customs like covering up bare arms in temples. A backpack can help with carrying items like sunscreen, snacks and bottled water.
Oh, the places you’ll go

EPIC JOURNEYS

ONE HOLIDAY, TWO CRUISES

18 NIGHTS: HAWAII AND ALASKA

Cruise the warm waters of Hawaii, then fly to Seattle for a cruise to Alaska and Canada. Leaves Australia on May 23, 2019.

From Hawaii’s volcanic peaks to Alaska’s glaciers, your journey of fire and ice explores a range of incredible vistas.

Fly to Honolulu for two nights in the cosmopolitan city before boarding Pride of America for a seven-night cruise that stops at Kahului, Hilo, Kona and Nawiliwili.

Take in Hawaii’s natural waterfalls, basalt-lava rock pools and rich rainforest. Sip a cocktail, don a bikini and get a tan before you fly to Seattle to begin your second adventure.

After a night in Seattle, you board Norwegian Bliss for a seven-night cruise to Alaska and Canada, where you’ll call at Juneau, Alaska’s capital city, renowned for its waterways that never freeze above an icefield that never melts. Whale- or bear watch, or go ziplining.

Next stop is Skagway, from the film North to Alaska, then Glacier Bay with its rugged mountains and deep-sheltered fjords. Spot the salmon-spawning streams at Ketchikan before you call at Victoria, capital city of Canada’s British Columbia, then return to Seattle.

Prices start at $8,695 per person for an interior stateroom. Limited time only.

WHERE YOU WILL GO
- Four Hawaiian islands including world-famous Waikiki Beach and overnight stays in Maui and Kauai
- The breathtaking Nā Pali Coast
- Alaska’s Inside Passage, home to eye-popping landscapes
- The town of Skagway with its boardwalk lined with buildings replicating the Gold Rush era
- Glacier Bay, for magnificent views

WHAT YOU GET
- Flights from Australia to Honolulu, returning from Seattle
- Two nights at the Aqua Oasis A Joy Hotel Waikiki, with breakfast
- 7-night return cruise from Honolulu aboard Pride of America
- One night pre- and post-cruise at the Motif Seattle Hotel
- 7-night cruise from Seattle return aboard Norwegian Bliss
