

Scholarly Publishing Collective

The Scholarly Publishing Collective is a collaboration between nonprofit scholarly journal publishers and societies that is managed by Duke University Press.

The Scholarly Publishing Collective platform hosts electronic content from over 140 journal titles in the humanities and social sciences from five publishers.

Features

- ▶ DRM-free access and printing
- ▶ Unlimited multiuser access
- ▶ No ongoing maintenance fees
- ▶ COUNTER-compliant usage statistics
- ▶ PDF format for all titles
- ▶ Email alerts when new issues publish
- ▶ Full text search; subject, title, and content type filterings; advanced search by DOI, ISSN, Author, Title
- ▶ Citation links to Crossref, PubMed, and Google Scholar
- ▶ Platform user experience that meets or exceeds the World Wide Web Consortium Web Content Accessibility Guidelines version 2.1, Level AA Conformance
- ▶ Robustly indexed in major discovery services, including Crossref, OCLC, EBSCO, and the ProQuest family of products

For more information for librarians, see scholarlypublishingcollective.org/pages/for_librarians.

Partner Publishers

PENN STATE UNIVERSITY PRESS

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS PRESS

MICHIGAN STATE UNIVERSITY PRESS

American Mental Health Counselors Association

DUKE

UNIVERSITY PRESS