

DUKE

UNIVERSITY PRESS

e-book
SUBJECT COLLECTIONS

e-book SUBJECT COLLECTIONS

Our e-Book Subject Collections give your institution access to the full range of Duke University Press titles in the fields we publish most extensively. These collections offer a simple way to deepen and strengthen your library's holdings within a specific subject area.

African American, African, and Black Diaspora Studies 636 titles

This collection includes important, interdisciplinary books about the Black experience around the world.

- Brings together three distinct yet interconnected fields to study Blackness from a global perspective.
- Reflects Duke Press's longstanding leadership in African American studies.
- Our African studies titles offer an interdisciplinary take on traditional area studies.
- Our Black diaspora studies titles include notable authors such as C. L. R. James, Sylvia Wynter, and Achille Mbembe.
- Includes poetry, creative criticism, and other methods to push the boundaries of scholarly writing.

Anthropology 804 titles

This collection includes major ethnographies by important authors in the cultural anthropology field.

- Reflects Duke Press's role as one of the most prominent publishers in cultural anthropology since the 1990s.
- Among the first to connect anthropology and cultural studies.
- Contains a mix of traditional ethnographies, broader cultural and theoretical analyses, and experiments in writing anthropology.
- Touches every corner of the globe, including places that have historically not been sites of ethnography, such as urban centers in Western countries, Wall Street, and television studios.
- Covers diverse subject areas, including medical anthropology, Native and Indigenous studies, ethnomusicology, media studies, and the anthropology of science.

Many a university press publishes worthy books about art – but none engages the subject and all it can mean quite like Duke University Press. – ARTnews

Art and Art History 316 titles

This collection includes titles in art theory and criticism, performance art, architecture, visual culture, photography, and museum studies.

- Includes titles by noted artists such as Lorraine O’Grady, Maya Stovall, Wadsworth A. Jarrell, Suzanne Lacy, and Mira Schor.
- Includes topics such as Andy Warhol, art in the Brazilian dictatorship, North American Indigenous art, the history of photography, performance art, African technological art, comics in Japan and Latin America, and Middle Eastern queer art.

Asian Studies 492 titles

This collection offers cutting-edge, multidisciplinary scholarship on contemporary and historical topics in Asian studies.

- Covers a large geographical area including China, Japan, India, Southeast Asia, and Korea.
- Includes titles that have won numerous awards from the Association for Asian Studies.
- Recent titles cover the politics of monumental icons in contemporary India, the ongoing influence of the US military on the beauty industry in Vietnam, the lifestyle of residents of a poor neighborhood in Beijing, and the life of Filipina vaudeville and film actress Isabel Rosario Cooper.

Environmental Humanities 133 titles

This collection includes titles that intermingle key areas of environmental study with a wide variety of disciplines.

- Challenges traditional boundaries of environmental studies to reflect a growing overlap of fields across humanities disciplines.
- Incorporates classic areas of environmental studies, such as anthropology and geography, with environmental humanities (e.g. literary studies and Indigenous studies) and fields growing in popularity (e.g. multispecies interactions and oceanic studies).

Gender Studies 899 titles

This collection includes groundbreaking titles in gender studies, gay and lesbian studies, transgender studies, transnational women's studies, and queer and feminist theory.

- Provides foundational scholarship for any gender studies program.
- Among the first to connect gender studies (i.e. feminist theory) and sexuality studies (i.e. queer theory).
- Includes research at the forefront of transgender studies.
- Includes highly intersectional and transnational research that explores what gender and sexuality studies mean beyond the English-speaking world.
- Strong in African American studies, anthropology, film and media studies, Latinx studies, music, and science studies.

LGBTQIA+ Studies 298 titles

This collection, which exists under the larger umbrella of the Gender Studies collection, includes titles that focus on growing and expanding the areas of study with which queer theory intersects.

Transgender Studies 31 titles

This collection, which exists under the larger umbrellas of the Gender Studies and LGBTQIA+ Studies collections, offers bold, theoretically informed, and broadly interdisciplinary scholarship of transness in the modern world.

Latin American Studies 750 titles

This collection includes important work by key authors in Latin American studies.

- Provides foundational scholarship for any Latin American studies program. Includes all titles in our popular and influential Latin American Readers series.
- Covers a broad range of history and culture from pre-Columbian times to the present.
- Features prominent authors including Marisol de la Cadena, Arturo Escobar, Gilbert M. Joseph, Walter D. Mignolo, Margaret Randall, and Boaventura de Sousa Santos.

Duke University Press has an Anthropology list like no other. It does not just encourage lateral thinking, the list speaks to the bold and courageous conviction that such thinking is of ever present importance. – Emeritus Professor of Social Anthropology and Life Fellow of Girton College, University of Cambridge

Music and Sound Studies 221 titles

This collection covers the traditional study of music and ethnomusicology, as well as the broader social, cultural, and technological dimensions of sound.

- Includes memoirs and biographies from Thomas Mapfumo, Tony Allen, William Parker, Randy Weston, Arthur Russell, and Paul Robeson.
- Features writings by critics Robert Christgau, Greg Tate, Chuck Eddy, and John Corbett.
- Draws on broad subject areas including anthropology, cultural studies, gender studies, African American studies, history, science and technology studies, Latin American studies, and sociology.

NEW!

Native and Indigenous Studies 130 titles

This collection brings together theoretically driven, interdisciplinary scholarship that reflects the field's expanding global scope.

- Highlights innovative scholarship shaped by Indigenous voices, methodologies, and intellectual leadership.
- Reflects the field's expanding global scope and engagement with major scholarly conversations across the humanities and social sciences.
- Demonstrates notable strength in Pacific and Native Hawaiian studies within a broader global framework.
- Supports interdisciplinary teaching and research across fields such as environmental humanities, cultural studies, and related areas.
- Includes influential scholars in the field such as Audra Simpson, Jody Byrd, and Mark Rifkin.

Religious Studies 183 titles

This collection includes titles that examine religions around the world, conflicts within and among religions, and the cultural, social, and political dynamics of religion.

- Features notable authors including Judith Casselberry, Stanley Hauerwas, Amy Laura Hall, Robert N. Bellah, and Donovan O. Schaefer.
- Recent titles cover internal community dynamics among Black evangelicals, the revival of Charismatic Catholicism in Brazil, the emergence of Hindutva in India, the intersections of modern politics and religious formations in communities around the world, and the resurgence of religion and ritual in Wenzhou, China.

DUKE

UNIVERSITY
PRESS

Features

- Unlimited simultaneous users
- Unrestricted digital rights management (DRM)—users can print, read online, or download PDFs by chapter
- Perpetual access
- No ongoing maintenance fees
- Free MARC records prepared by Duke University librarians

All collections hosted at read.dukepress.edu

Purchase Information

Purchase includes perpetual access to all included e-books. In subsequent years, purchasing libraries will have the option to “top up” their subject collection by buying the year’s new batch of relevant titles.

For title lists and pricing, visit
dukepress.edu/libraries

Scan code for pricing:

Duke University Press

dukepress.edu/libraries

dup_libraryrelations@duke.edu

Tel: +1.919.688.5134

Fax: +1.919.688.2615

