

Flexcon® DrumCal™ for GHS compliant labeling

The Globally Harmonized System (GHS) of Classification and Labeling of Chemicals enables better hazard communication regarding chemicals to all persons who are potentially exposed by standardizing the information to be communicated on container labels. It also enables ready availability of information on the hazardous properties of such chemicals and recommended control measures should an accident happen.

Meet GHS standards with confidence and ease.

GHS requires that manufacturers and end users include specific information on all primary and secondary labels.

1. Product identifiers
2. Signal words
3. Hazard statements
4. Precautionary statements
5. Supplier identification
6. Pictograms created with a combination of red and black ink

The basic parts of a GHS compliant label:

ACETONE

UN No. 5555
CAS No. 82-45-1

DANGER
