WHERE GLOBAL CITIZENS BECOME FUTURE LEADERS

royalholloway.ac.uk/isc

A MESSAGE FROM THE CENTRE DIRECTOR

“Welcome to Royal Holloway International Study Centre (ISC). By studying with us, you join a thriving community of international students who have all made the same decision, to broaden horizons and invest in a better future for yourselves, and the wider world.

This prospectus provides details of our pathway programmes available and what you will experience living and learning at a spectacular university, recognised for its leading research and international excellence, while living close to London’s global industry hubs.

As one of the first universities in the UK to accept women, Royal Holloway, University of London has a history of shaping social change through education. We in turn challenge our students to ask, how will you express your values and make a difference to the world around you?

All staff at the ISC are here to support you as you prepare for your future studies at Royal Holloway. Our academic team are subject experts who understand the needs of international students, and our student experience team ensures you feel happy, safe, and on track to succeed.

Your responsibility, as a student, is to work hard, attend and engage in your course and to express your creativity, confidence, and passion for your subject in your work here at the ISC.”

EXPLORE A BRILLIANT STUDY LOCATION

At Royal Holloway, students benefit from the best of both worlds. Studying on a beautiful and close-knit campus means you can join student groups and clubs, while being close to London means you can also explore the city's cultural and artistic attractions. There are a variety of opportunities, whatever your interest.

Beautiful campus

Studying on one of the world's most beautiful campuses will inspire and enable you to focus on your studies. Situated in 135 acres of parkland, Royal Holloway boasts an iconic, green campus, with all the facilities you will ever need within easy reach.

Close to London

Getting to the centre of London from the university campus in Egham, Surrey, takes just 40 minutes by train, meaning students have great access to many famous attractions, international sports and entertainment venues. Additionally, Royal Holloway is located just seven miles from Heathrow Airport, making international travel as easy as can be.

YOUR LIFE AT ROYAL HOLLOWAY

International community

We are proud to welcome you to an international, diverse and inspiring student community. With students from over 130 countries studying here and 100,000+ alumni in 165 countries, international students are more welcome than ever.

Keep yourself entertained

The university has a proud tradition of music and performance. You can join a band or choir, or perform in musical theatre or the opera. Alternatively, you can enjoy any hobby you like through the Students' Union.

DISCOVER YOUR STUDENT HOME

Culturally iconic

Home to the spectacular Founder's Building and famous Picture Gallery, the historic campus is frequently named as one of the most beautiful campuses in the world. Since the original building was opened by Queen Victoria in the late 1800s, Royal Holloway has been home to many generations of learning.

New state-of-the-art facilities

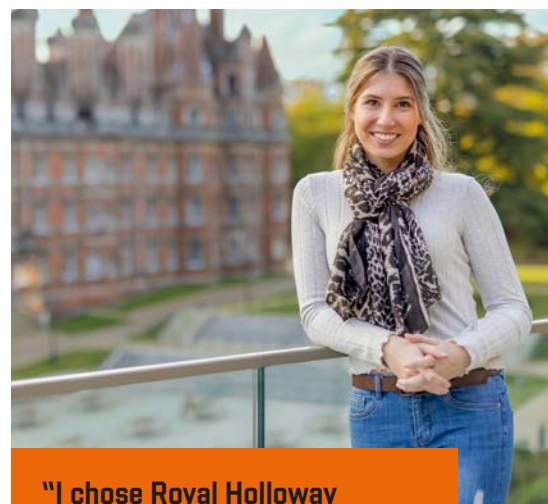

Royal Holloway has been investing in new campus buildings and student services to support your development. The Beatrice Shilling Building is the latest space to open its doors for more learning, with a new lecture theatre, seminar rooms, research areas and additional core working spaces. It is also the home of the Department of Electronic Engineering.

Great study resources

Located at the heart of the university campus, the Emily Wilding Davison Building is Royal Holloway's flagship Library and Student Services Centre. It brings together everything you need to thrive at Royal Holloway, from a library and careers hub to a shop, café, and exhibition space.

"I chose Royal Holloway because I wanted a university town. My favourite building would have to be the Founder's Building. I walk around it every day and every single day I notice a new detail. My favourite place to study would definitely be the library. It's spacious, it's modern, it's new, and there's a little postgraduate room where we can go and study."

THE INTERNATIONAL STUDY CENTRE

Here at the International Study Centre, we provide academic tuition and language support for international students so they can progress to their degree at Royal Holloway.

University-style teaching

With our expertise in international education, we will provide you with the skills and confidence needed to begin your university studies. At the International Study Centre, you will be introduced to the type of curriculum and teaching style used in British universities, gaining exposure to small-group and individual tutorials, seminar-style classes and larger-group lectures before you begin your degree study at Royal Holloway, University of London.

Access to university facilities

As a student of the International Study Centre, you will be part of the Royal Holloway community from the day you start your pathway programme, and can use all of the facilities on campus. From the library to the Students' Union, you will benefit from all aspects of university life, as well as get the chance to familiarise yourself with the campus and town you will be studying in ahead of starting your degree.

Support and advice

We understand that moving to a new country is a big change and we provide ongoing support to ensure you settle into your new surroundings. Our team is available to speak to students about any matters, from adjusting to your new life in the UK, to health and personal matters. You will also receive continuing academic support to help you get the most from your education.

We will even be here to help you choose the right degree programme – advising on entry requirements, career opportunities and suitable subjects so you can achieve your goals.

When you start your pathway programme, you will have access to regular one-to-one support from your academic tutors and progress coaches to ensure you succeed in your studies.

Careers and employability

The International Study Centre offers a variety of activities, all with the aim of helping you become a highly skilled, self-aware, confident and employable graduate. Employability services and jobs fairs connect you to employers and give you the chance to develop your experience and understanding of the opportunities in your specialist field.

These skills are mapped to and embedded in your course and many degree programmes offer integrated work opportunities within your studies. Royal Holloway has excellent graduate outcomes and our students are the values-forward leaders of tomorrow.

Students on selected pathways also have the opportunity to participate in competitions pitching innovations and solutions to sector-leading businesses, from top motorsport teams to global fast-food brands. Previous shortlisted winners have also been offered opportunities to attend summer internships interviews.

Progression scholarships

Royal Holloway International Study Centre students who successfully complete their pathway programme and progress on to Royal Holloway, University of London, will receive the progression scholarship.

“I like the campus here and the facilities. Everything around helps me to study and get into my course. The library here is great and it's full of places that help me to study. Living on campus itself is a great experience. I have everything I need on campus and I don't need to go out a lot. There is the Students' Union, they organise weekly events, wellbeing, markets and everything.”

ACCOMMODATION

During your time at Royal Holloway International Study Centre, you can choose to live in allocated student accommodation (known as 'halls') or arrange your own private accommodation independently.

Living in halls

Living in halls is a big part of the student experience. A dedicated team of residential staff will look after you, ensuring you are provided with a secure and comfortable home throughout your stay. There are many advantages to living on campus. You will experience campus life, as well as easy access to events and services the campus offers. You will also benefit from the convenience of being a short walking distance from your classes on campus.

There are several options, depending on your budget and needs, ranging from a shared room with a washbasin, to a private room with its own bathroom.

All study bedrooms in halls are equipped with necessary furniture, including a desk, chair and bed. Please note that some halls may not be available for all start dates.

Private accommodation

You can arrange your accommodation privately or we can assist you with this process. Ask your agent or student enrolment advisor for information and how to get started.

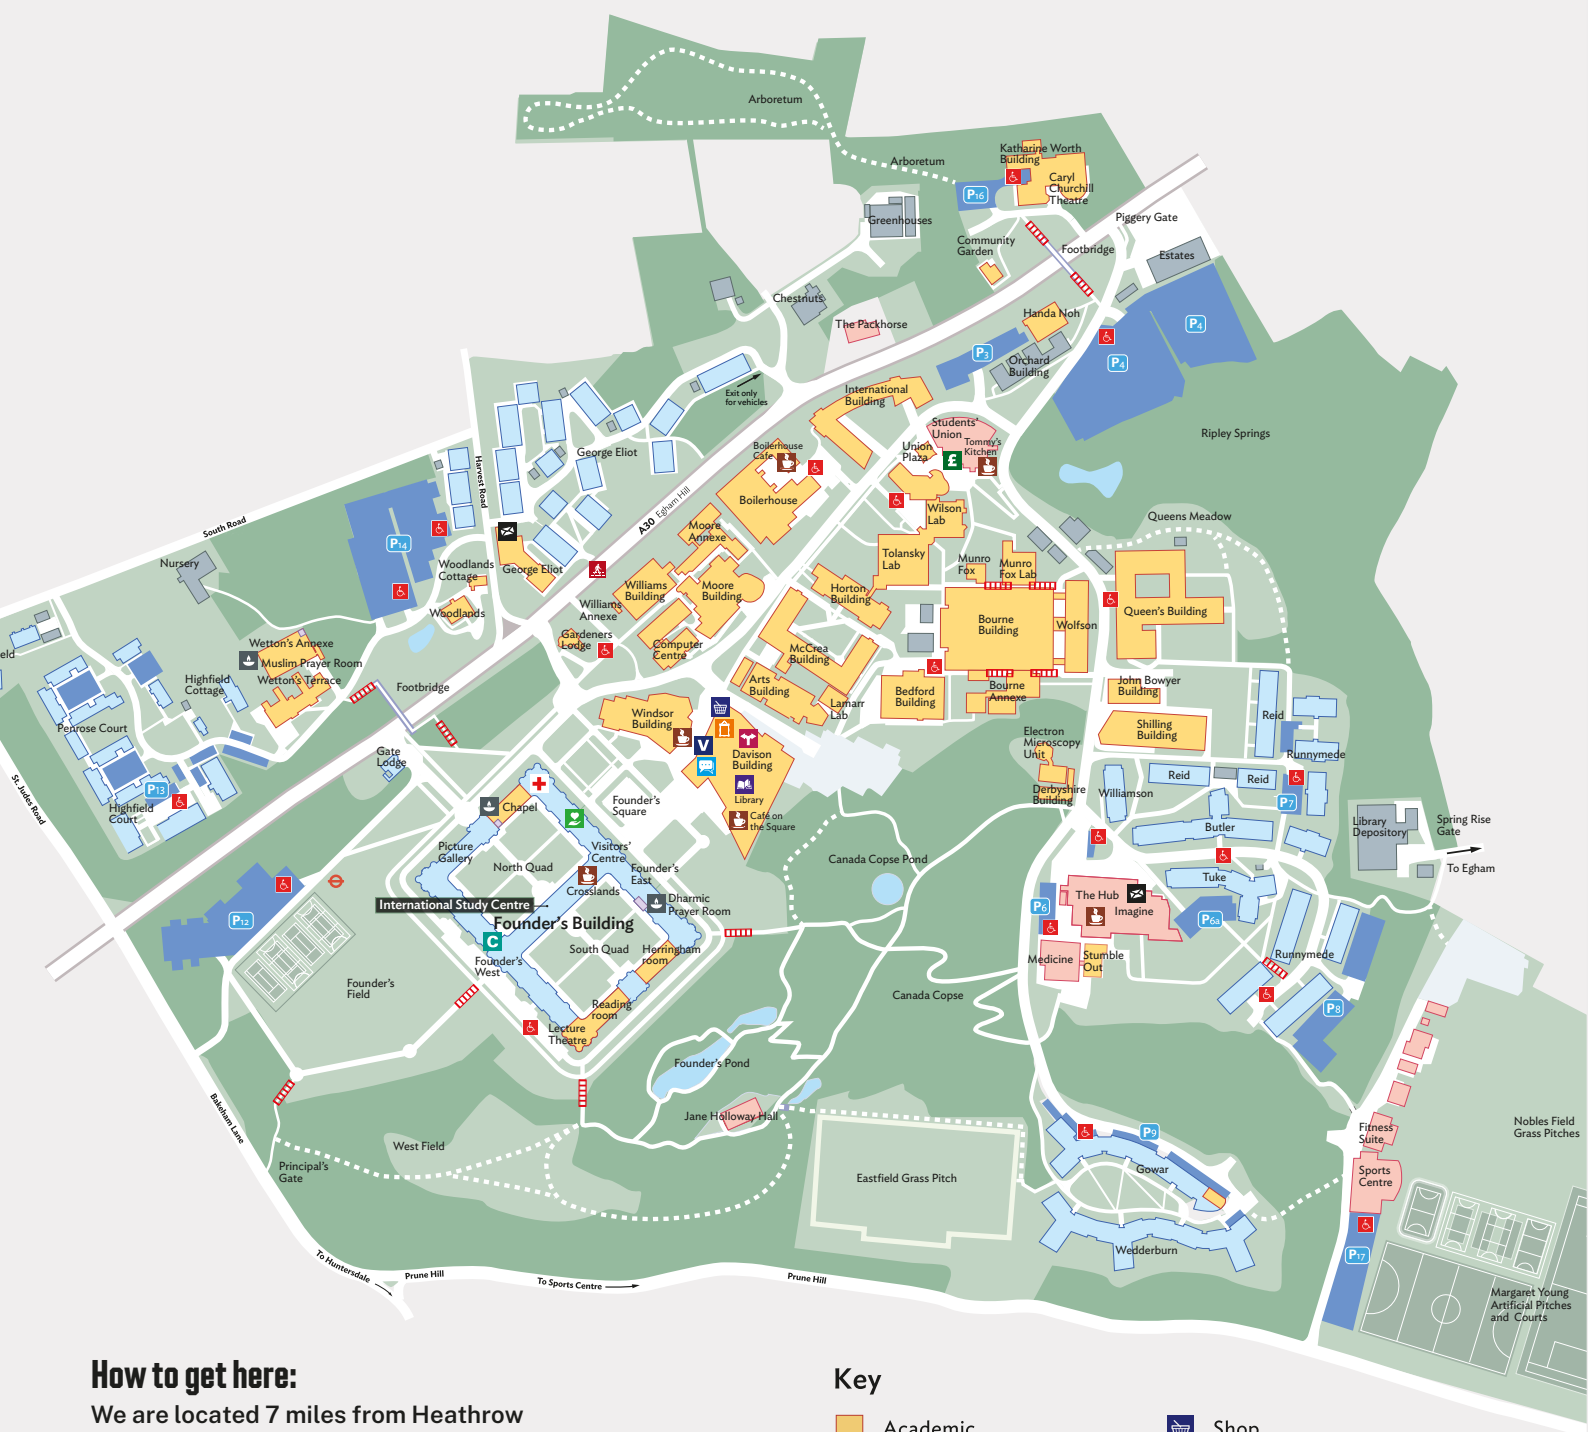

If you are choosing private accommodation, it is important that you let us know where you are staying. Please note that you must live less than 60 minutes away from the International Study Centre.

“The 20th-century architecture is amazing; so well preserved. You feel this sense of belonging here, it's such a close-knit community, you know pretty much everyone around you. Unlike metropolitan universities, the size of the university is really compact which is good for me because you don't feel so stressed with the crowds. It's a nice community and it's also a global community so you learn something new almost every day which is a very academically stimulating experience for everyone.”
