How to book your accommodation

It's important that you book your accommodation as early as possible to ensure you live within a reasonable distance of the International Study Centre and make the most of your experience at Teesside.

Request your accommodation early

If you request accommodation on your application form, our Central Student Services team will contact you directly regarding the options available.

It's your responsibility to find suitable accommodation within a maximum of a 50-mile radius of Teesside International Study Centre but we are happy to help you find your accommodation at Teesside.

Student accommodation

Living in accommodation with other students is the best way to experience student life in the UK and will help you to settle-in, focus on your studies and make friends more easily.

At Teesside University International Study Centre we offer accommodation at Infinity House and Rialto Court which offer safe and modern accommodation located in Stockton-on-Tees.

You can find out more about our accommodation options on our website: isc.tees.ac.uk/international-study-centre/accommodation

Application process

Once a room offer is made, it is important to accept the offer and follow any requested actions within the allotted time, otherwise it will expire. Please submit your application for accommodation as soon as you can, and the team will process it as quickly as possible.

Private accommodation

If you plan to book your own accommodation, please remember this needs to be no further than 50 miles from the International Study Centre (TS1 3BX). Middlesbrough is the ideal choice because of both its location and lifestyle for students.

As a private renter, you will be signing a legal contract when booking your accommodation and will be held to the clauses in that contract. If you are unsure of anything in the legal document, you will need to seek independent legal advice.

Book early to live nearby

Make sure you secure your accommodation before you book your travel to the UK.

"Middlesbrough is a place where we find residents from various cultures, religions and ethnic groups. So, we feel like we are coming to our own home because we tend to meet people from our own country and this is an area with big diversity. So, I think it's that diversity as well as the friendliness of the people that makes us feel at home."
