Goals & Challenges

One of the primary goals of the website rebuild was to maintain the existing site design and user experience while refreshing the overall look and feel. Wakefly worked closely with HarborOne Bank to identify areas of improvement and implement necessary changes, while ensuring that the new design was consistent with the bank's existing branding and customer experience.

Solution

One significant change and upgrade to the new website was a re-work to the site navigation. A new journey-based approach was implemented, dividing the main navigation into Personal Banking, Small Business Banking, and Commercial Banking categories. This change aimed to provide an intuitive and effortless user experience, making it easier for customers to find the information they needed based on their specific banking needs.

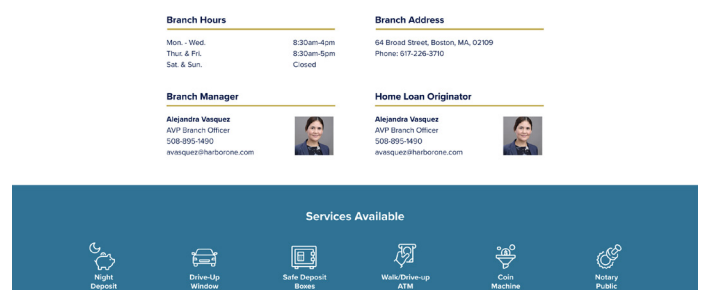

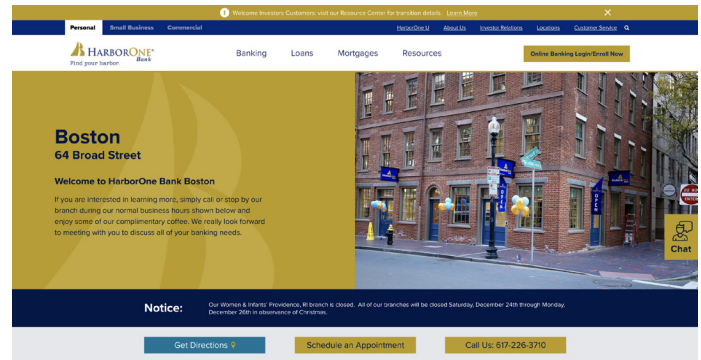

Updates were made to the layouts of the Small Business home page. A new look at content and calls to action have improved the user experience, offering the small business banking customer additional helpful resources. The location details page template was also re-thought, highlighting many of the important content areas to make it easier for the user to get directions, schedule appointments and generally connect with and understand the service offerings of each branch office.

By partnering with Wakefly, HarborOne Bank was able to leverage the latest technology in Kentico Xperience 13 to improve their website's user experience and ensure continued support. The successful rebuild of harborone.com has enabled the bank to better serve its customers by providing a modern, intuitive online banking experience that they are already familiar with. This has also enhanced the bank's digital presence, reinforcing their commitment to meeting the evolving needs of their customers.
