

European and International Law

What does the curriculum look like?

All EIL students have to follow these three courses:

- European and International Law \(12 ECTS\)
- Legal Methodology \(6 ECTS\)
- Transnational Human Rights and Globalisation \(6 ECTS\)

As well as that, they have to choose one of these courses (all are 6 ECTS):

- Competition Law
- Human Rights Protection in Europe
- International Weapons Law
- Irregular Migration

And also, they have to choose one of these courses (all are 6 ECTS)

- EU Internal Market Law
- International Humanitarian Law
- International Trade and Investment Law
- The Politics of International Law
- EU Anti-Discrimination Law

Then, they have to write a thesis (12 ECTS). You can find out more about that here:

Master's Thesis Law

Finally, they have 12 ECTS free choice, which they use to take two more electives, or one elective and an internship. The electives can be chosen from the lists above, or from any of the other elective masters courses offered by the law faculty.
